WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Cochran gathered at their home on New Year's Eve to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their wedding. The evening was spent in playing cards. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran were presented with a Sheffield silver cake plate and rose bowl by their friends, after which refreshments were served. The guests then departed wishing the bride and groom many more wedding anniversaries.

WATCHNIGHT SERVICE

The members of Trinity Young People's Union held a watch night service in the Sunday School rooms from 9 to 12 on New Year's Eve. The first part of the evening was spent in games and contests. The service was opened with the hymn "Glory to God in the Highest" followed by readings of the scripture by Rev. I. E. Kennedy. After the hymn "Standing at the Portal," the crowd in attendance silently watched 1935 go out and 1936 come in.

BRIDE-ELECT SHOWERED

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Twiddy of Ivanhoe entertained a number of friends and neighbours on Thursday evening, when they presented Miss Nana Benson, bride-to-be, with a miscellaneous shower and a social evening was spent prior to her marriage on Saturday, December 28th.

The following address was read: Ivanhoe, December 26, 1935.

Dear Nora and Percy:

We, your friends and neighbours, have come here to spend one more special evening with you, before you take up residence in another community. We are going to miss you very much in our church and community activities. As you go to your new home, we want you to remember your Ivanhoe friends. So we ask you to accept this gift from us, in the hope each time you set the table, you will think of us. May you always feel that there is a place at our table for you, whenever you find it convenient to visit us. With love and best wishes to you and your new home.

Given on behalf of the community: Edna Shaw, Mary Clements, Mrs. R. Reid, and Lindsay Tanner presented her with a 50-piece dinner set.

With love and appreciation for the kindness and invited all to visit them at their new home in Stirling.

CARD OF THANKS

Grace wishes to thank all who kindly voted for her in the election in Mr. C. R. ...

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Murney Smith was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday, December 24th, when their only daughter, Thelma Maude, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Henry Deline, of Sulphide, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Deline. Rev. A. W. Hunter officiated.

The bride wore a gown of blue silk crepe trimmed with silver with blue and gray accessories. Miss Olive Stirling, friend of the bride, was the only attendant, gown in blue silk crepe with blue accessories. Mr. Wm. Deline of Sulphide, was his brother's groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served to close friends and in the evening a reception and dance was held. After spending Christmas with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Deline left for their new home in Sulphide, the bride travelling in a smart brown crepe dress, brown fur trimmed coat with brown hat and accessories.

A very pretty Yuletide wedding was solemnized at the United Church parsonage, Ivanhoe, by Rev. H. H. Lackey, on Saturday, December 28, 1935, at 10.30 o'clock, when Nora Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. Edward Benson, became the bride of Mr. Percy Craighead, eldest son of Mrs. John Craighead of Stirling.

The bride looked charming in a dress of blue crepe with velvet trimmings, with hat and accessories to match. They were supported by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Benson of Ivanhoe. Immediately after the ceremony, the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Ingersoll, Brampton and points west. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Stirling.

KLEINSTEUBER-MACK

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday, December 23rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mack of Crookston, when their eldest daughter became the bride of Ernest Roy Kleinsteuber, second oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kleinsteuber of Sulphide, Ont. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. J. Robertson of the Standard Church. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of flowered chiffon with white accessories. MADOC WINS

FIRST GAME

The hockey season was officially opened in Madoc on Friday evening of last week when the locals took an 8-4 decision from the Belleville entry in the Central Hastings League. Owing to mild weather the ice was heavy which slowed up the game and made it hard going for both teams, with the result that lack of condition showed and penalties were numerous.

Belleville opened the scoring early in the first period, but Madoc came back strong and outscored the visitors 2-1 to tie the count as the period ended. The second frame was all Madoc's who scored four times while the visitors registered a goose egg. In the last period both teams showed lack of condition and the play became very ragged with each team getting two counters, making the final score 8-4.

As Belleville is only playing a single schedule this game counts as two.

The locals played their second game against Tweed on Monday night of this week and without the services of Don Whytock, who was used in Friday night's game, were defeated 3-2.

Tweed is now leading the League with two wins and no losses having won their first game in Marmora 4-2. Marmora and Belleville are tied for the cellar position with two losses each. Marmora lost to Stirling on Monday night 4-3.

Stirling, a new entry in the Central Hastings League, play here tonight (Wednesday). Stirling, who has been out of hockey since the good old days of the Trent Valley League, have collected together some of their former stars and expect to go places in this League. Harry Ingram, of Stirling, Campbellford and Belleville fame, and Jack Ackers, who is also well known here, are on the line-up as well as Don Morton, who is no mean goalie. Be sure to be on hand to watch these old rivals in action.

MARK 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING

Fifty-two relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Woodcox to extend to them their hearty wishes in honor of their gold- en wedding. They were also honored with the presence of their seven chil- dren, fifteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Recitations, sing- ing and music was enjoyed by all until about three-thirty. Mr. and Mrs. Woodcox were called to the fore while their youngest daughter, Geraldine, read the following address as they were presented with two lovely rock- ing chairs and many more lovely gifts.

Flinton, Wed., Dec. 25,th

Dear Father and Mother:
'Twas fifty years ago today
A long, long time 'tis true,
When you were wed but yet no doubt
'Tis but a day to you.

You looked on life with your youthful eyes
And pledged your life anew
To work for each and each for both
That dreams might all come true.

You worked for happiness and love
There friends would gladly meet,
The loving grasp of tiny hands
The patter of little feet.

The many cares of childhood days,
Of endless things to do,
The trials, the cares, the joys of home
Brought happiness to you.

Time marches on from day to day
Your boys and girls have grown,
Prepared and fitted for life's work
In circles of their own.

Lift up your heads with joy and pride
With thankful hearts and true,
That every member of your home
Is meeting here with you.

We prize your love, your kindly acts
Through all those years gone by,
We can't repay those deeds of love
We can but humbly try.

These anniversary gifts we bring
To you our Dad and Mother,
As tokens of our love sincere
The love of one another.

Long may you live and health enjoy
For many years to come,
So we your friends and family
May find you still at home.

Signed on behalf of daughters, sons and relatives.

Mrs. Woodcox then thanked every- one for the beautiful and useful gifts and wished they would all meet again in her home.

The girls then sang many suitable songs after which all joined in sing- ing "For They Are Jolly Good Fel- lows." They then adjourned to the dining room which was prettily de- corated in white and gold where a dinner was served.

The rest of the evening was spent in dancing until the wee hours of the morning.

LAST HOPE SEEN

The latest move in defence efforts to keep Hauptmann from the electric chair the week of January 13th de- veloped on the first anniversary of the opening of his Flemington trial.

"We are investigating a lead," said Attorney Frederick A. Pope.

WEDDINGS

McDONALD—PHILLIPS

On Christmas Day, at the home of her parents, Mildred Melissa, daugh- ter of Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips of West Huntingdon, became the bride of Donald McDonald, of Glas- gow, Scotland.

The service took place under a bridal arch of evergreens and wed- ding bells.

The bride wore a gown of saxe blue crepe de chine and was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's sister, Miss Gladys Phil- lips, was the bridesmaid, while Mr. Roy Smith, Holloway, acted as best- man.

The hymn chosen was "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." The cere- mony was performed by Rev. F. C. Beaser.

Among the out-of-town guests pre- sent were Mrs. Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. Lamrock, of Flint, Mich.; Mrs. Smith, Chicago, all relatives of the bride.

Three hundred million people were on the lips of the colossal broad- cast of King George's message 'round the world on Christmas morning. Greetings from the King were heard in Canada from 9:30 to 10, E.S.T., over the national network of the Canadian Radio Commission.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Looking backward upon fifty years of happily wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson Reddick, residents of Belleville for the past twenty-one years, observed the golden anniver- sary of their marriage at their home in Belleville on Saturday. Both in excellent health, they are both an- ticipating many years of happiness and activity to come.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reddick were born in the vicinity of Madoc, the former being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reddick while Mrs. Reddick was formerly Miss Annie Wannamaker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wannamaker. They were married at Hartmore 50 years ago, the ceremony being per- formed by the late Rev. Mr. McDon- ald. The event was a very interesting social gathering, about eighty guests being present.

Mr. Reddick followed the profes- sion of farming and they lived for a time at Fort Stewart, Carleton and Chatterton, where they were held in affection by a wide circle of friends. Twenty-one years ago Mr. Reddick retired and with his family moved to Belleville to reside. Mr. and Mrs. Reddick are faithful members of the Bethel Hall congregation.

Six children were born to the couple and all were home on Satur- day to celebrate with them the an- niversary day. They are: Mrs. Chas. Delcourt, Holloway; Mrs. Chas. Prest Holloway; Mrs. Fredy Williamson Oshawa; Mrs. William Murray Osh- awa; Miss Thelma Reddick, of Belle- ville, and Mr. William Reddick of Oshawa. Ten grandchildren were al- so present at the festivities.

Bouquets of yellow chrysanthem- ums were used in the decoration of the dinner table, gold candles also adding to the decorative scheme. A huge wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was used as a centrepiece. About twenty-five guests were present at the dinner party. The living room was very prettily arranged with pink and white decorations.

During the evening Mr. Reddick was presented with a yellow gold ring and Mrs. Reddick with a watch, the gifts of the family. Many visitors dur- ing the day and messages of con- gratulations expressed the good wishes of very many friends of the popu- lar couple.

DIONNE QUINTUPLETS GAVE MANY GIFTS TO THEIR FAMILY

In their nurse's brightened by r- ay, travelled evergreen, surround- ed by various many-colored gifts, the Dionne Quintuplets saw their second Christmas Eve, and, with a growing comprehension of the meaning of the holiday, drifted off to slumberland.

In the morning, the sisters, An- nette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Yvonne, awakened in an atmosphere of celebration, and they participated in the Christmas spirit by giving as well as receiving.

For the quintuplets, from their own earnings at the age of less than 19 months, made handsome gifts to their parents and their five elder brothers and sisters.

Under their Christmas tree in the little Dafoe Hospital, on the snow- covered hill on the outskirts of Call- andor, were placed a large number of gifts from the quintuplets to their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, and for their not so well known Dionne children. Papa Dionne received handkerchiefs, a scarf and many other articles from his children, while Mrs. Dionne was also remembered with necklaces and rings.

Dr. A. R. Dafoe, physician to the quintuplets, made his usual profes- sional visit to look over the young- sters, and then retired to the back- ground while the Dionne family held their Christmas party. The celebra- tion was strictly private at the Da- foe Hospital, with only nurses pre- sent, in addition to the family and a few relatives.

SON BORN ON CHRISTMAS TO CHRISTMAS FAMILY

Most babies are content to be brought by stork. A rare few arrange it so they are brought by Santa Claus and stork. But a baby born at the Kingston General Hospital on Christmas Day not only had Santa Claus and bird as Godfathers, but he took the name of Christmas as well, for he was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Christmas of Kingston.

The stork was in a hurry and didn't wait to wait until Christmas Day, but Santa insisted, and so the fine healthy baby was born at ten minutes after midnight. The nurses were prepared to name the child "Merry Christmas" if it were a girl, but the arrival of a boy upset those plans.

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

(Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture)

Poultry Killing Rules

The following regulations have been issued by government authorities for the guidance of poultry processors and shippers, in order that standard quality may be maintained and highest average prices realized:

They shall have been starved for sufficient length of time before being killed to empty crops and intestines, during which time they should have access to clean drinking water.

They shall be properly bled so that no blood remains in the extremities; be undrawn with the head and feet left on; be dry picked with all feathers removed, except that, if so desired, a few feathers may be left around the head and wing tips; be dry cooled having feet clean and very properly flushed, with all blood removed from the mouth and with the crop empty. Birds showing feed in the crop shall have the crop removed, preferably through the back of the neck; such crop removal shall lower the quality of the bird at least one grade. It is preferable that heads should be wrapped.

Poor Seed Still Used

It is commonplace to say that good seed is an essential in the production of a good crop, stated Professor Robert Summerby of Macdonald College in his presidential address to the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. But while there is very general agreement on this, there are still many farmers who do not put this apparently accepted principle into practice. Examination of the fields of seed which is being used in seed drills in different parts of the country reveals the fact that a large proportion of farmers are still using seed of a poor quality, either of unknown variety or of badly mixed varieties. Similarly, analysis of the grain that is being delivered to the elevators shows that far too many farmers are using nondescript seed, and only a relatively small proportion are using seed of the highest quality of the most suitable varieties. To drive home to farmers in general the important place of good seed in an agricultural program requires that a continuous, persistent sound, educational program be carried on over a period of years.

Manures and Fertilizers for Vegetable Crops

The use of fertilizers, barnyard manure and green manure in the growth of cabbage, and tomatoes has been under investigation at the Central Experimental Farm since 1924. A 4-8-5 fertilizer mixture was applied for early cabbage at the rate of 1,000 pounds per acre; first alone; second, with an application of 10 tons of barnyard manure per acre; third, following the turning under of a green crop of sweet clover and, fourth, with barnyard manure and green manure. The crop of tomatoes following the cabbage was not fertilized.

A summary of the results of this experiment shows that the commercial fertilizer increased the total yield of the cabbage by 45 per cent and of the tomatoes by 106 per cent. Used in conjunction with the fertilizer the turning under of green sweet clover crop proved of slightly greater benefit to the cabbage crop than an application of 10 tons of manure per acre. With the tomato crop, however, the green manure did not materially increase yields, while barnyard manure gave large increases.

Courses in Agriculture and Home Economics This Winter

A Short Course in Agriculture available to young men will be conducted in every county and district in Ontario this winter. The opportunity for young people on farms to receive further education on agricultural subjects is offered to at least one and sometimes two communities in each county each year. A programme is drafted to include the subjects that directly apply to the type of farming engaged in the district. Besides agriculture, instruction is given in English, civics, music and other subjects.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture, through the Agricultural Representative Branch, provides competent lecturers for these courses, while local municipalities lend their support by supplying the necessary accommodation. That these courses are offering an appreciated type of education is demonstrated by the fact that nearly 30,000 junior farmers have attended one or more short courses since they were first started in 1912.

Courses in Home Economics for rural young women are usually conducted at the same place and time as the courses in agriculture. At the Home Economics Course, such subjects as nutrition, household management, sewing, nursing and hygiene are studied. Instructors for these courses are supplied by the Institutes Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Two popular types of courses are being conducted: this winter—three months' courses or schools of Agriculture and Home Economics, and courses of one month's duration. The average attendance for the first three weeks at the Three Months' Courses which commenced on November 26, 1935, has been 30 boys and 31 girls.

Information about the course in any particular county may be obtained from the local Agricultural Representative.

Hay Crop Report

Reports from Central, Eastern and Northern Ontario indicate practically no movement in hay excepting local transfers for current use and the shipment of a few car loads of 1934 hay from the lower Ottawa Valley to the Maritime Provinces for which growers received about $6. per ton. Growers still hold the bulk of this year's crop and in many areas a part of the 1934 crop. In Northern Ontario the carry over of 1934 hay is estimated at 25 per cent to 35 per cent. In the upper Ottawa Valley hay is abundant but much of it is of poor quality.

Offers to growers in the St. Lawrence Counties are reported as from $4. to $5.50 for timothy light clover of grades 2 and 3 with as much as $8. per ton for No. 2 timothy light clover in the Kingston area. Straw prices in the Brockville area, $4. per ton. Prices per ton to growers in Northern Ontario are reported as follows: timothy No. 2, $10 in the New Liskeard area; timothy light clover, $18 in the Timmins area and $16 in the Sudbury area; timothy clover at Fort William, $9.00.

In South-western Ontario the proportion of this year's market hay crop still on the farms is estimated at 60 per cent. The bulk of this is timothy mixtures No. 3 grade. The supply of alfalfa is not plentiful but small quantities are being used for grinding. The present demand is poor for timothy mixtures but fair for good timothy because there is little of this quality in the immediate vicinity of Toronto. Some of the biggest consumers in Toronto already have large supplies on hand. Little increase is expected in domestic or export trade next month.

Present prices at Toronto for good quality hay are about $9 per ton and $5 for straw. Average prices to growers range from $7.50 to $8.50 for No. 2 timothy mixtures; $5.50 to $6.50 for No. 3 timothy mixtures, $3.50 to $4. for straw. These prices are based on average freight costs to terminal markets.

FEDERAL RELIEF GRANTS LIFTED BY 75 PER CENT

Canadian municipalities were recently examining a substantial Christmas present from the Dominion Government in the form of a 75 per cent increase in relief grants to the provinces, earmarked for their benefit.

Carrying out his promise at the close of last week's Provincial Conference, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced that the Provinces would receive an additional $1,313,437 monthly until the end of March, to enable them to give such financial assistance as the municipalities may need to meet relief costs.

Agreement by the provinces to submit relief expenditures to the review of the proposed Dominion commission on unemployment and relief, encouraged the government to make these drastic increases in expenditures from the Federal Treasury. The Dominion Government was convinced, the Prime Minister said, that many of the municipalities had reached the limit of their ability to meet relief costs.

MASKED HOLD-UP MEN FAIL TO DAUNT GROCER

Two masked hold-up men and a splitting revolver failed to daunt Rosario Landerville, 200-pound Montreal grocer. Ordered to stick up his hands, Landerville smashed one of the men to the floor with a hefty left, grabbed the other and propelled him through the glass of the store's door. The first man arose from the floor, fired four shots at the battling grocer and scurried through the door to a waiting automobile.

Police arrived to find Landerville nursing cuts about the head and chest.

DOMINION MAKES PROGRESS TOWARD ECONOMIC RECOVERY

Although Canada still is a long way from the prosperous condition she enjoyed during the pre-depression period, the year 1935 has witnessed further progress toward economic recovery.

The gain in most of the accepted indices has been steady from month to month during the year now drawing to a close, and the general business index for the first ten months of the year averaged 101.3, as compared with 94.2 for the parallel period of 1934 and 78.5 for the like period of 1933. So the business level is now back to that of the year 1926, which is considered by economists as representative of normal conditions in the post-war period.

Wholesale prices in Canada for the first ten months of 1935 averaged 72 per cent of normal, as against 72.7 last year and 66.8 in 1933, the lowest point of the depression period. Common stock prices averaged 91.1 per cent of the 1926 level, as compared with 85.7 last year and 67.2 the year before. Bond yields averaged 136.3 of normal, as compared with 120.6 in 1934 and 105.7 in 1933.

Employment at 99 per cent was virtually back to normal, as against 95.7 in 1934 and 82.6 in 1933 though there still are half a million jobless persons in Canada, many of them unemployable. Carloadings for the first ten months of the year totalled 1,970,000, as compared with 1,841,000 in 1934 and 1,673,000 in 1933.

BIG GAME FISHING CONTEST IN BERMUDA

Big game fishing off the coast of Bermuda has developed to such an extent in recent seasons that this year the Bermudians have organized a fishing tournament, with silver trophies for winners in light and heavy tackle classes.

Bonito, yellow-tail, parrot-fish, snappers and amberjack are among the big game fish caught off the islands, in addition to big tuna. Bermuda wahoo weighing upwards of sixty pounds, and dolphin. The fishing tournament, beginning December 20th this year, will continue until January 10th next, open to all amateur fishermen, fishing with rod and line. There will be heavy and light tackle classes, with a silver trophy for each class. Efficient boatmen will be available to take fishermen out after their quarry, it is announced, and visitors may secure their applications from the Trade Development Board.

SLAYER OF FOUR IS SHOT TO DEATH

William Henry Knight, slayer of four men, was shot to death in a fog of tear gas by possemen on Monday night ending a one-man reign of terror in Southwestern Montana.

The 39-year-old ex-convict died a few hours after he was cornered and shot at the home of a former employee, James Gilligan.

Gilligan, his wife, and two small children were held captive by the desperado until they persuaded him to permit them to remove the children. David 5, and Hazel 2, to their grandmother's home.

Knight consented and the terrified parents notified police who made short work of the man who boasted of killing two peace officers.

As a steamer was leaving the harbor of Athens, a well-dressed young passenger approached the captain and, pointing to the distant hills, inquired:

"What is that white stuff on the hills, captain?"

"That is snow, madam," replied the captain.

"Well, remarked the lady, "I thought so myself, but a gentleman has just told me it was Greece."

ADVERTISING Is Good For Us

The dusty picture of an optimist and a pessimist—the optimist being the doughnut and the pessimist the hole—is just a way of describing most of us: some of us habitually look on the bright side of things; others on the dark side. Always there are those who have a melancholy pleasure in fault-finding. And so there are always those who look upon advertising as an economic waste and a means by which the sale of inferior merchandise can be promoted. It is quite possible to discover wrong things about advertising—just as it is possible to find wrong things about water and air, about books and speeches, about motor cars and aeroplanes, about schools and churches, about Canadians and Scotsmen, about knives and forks.

Advertising is news and information, and who shall say that is wrong to communicate news and information? It would be a pretty dull world, full of dull people, if there ceased to be a dissemination of news and information.

In all ages and in all countries those giving out news and information have attracted to themselves attentive audiences; and this is as true today as it was 1000, 2000, 3000 years ago.

What Stores Are Busiest ?

Is it not those stores which give out most information about what they have to sell? The public is daily spending money—probably $2 a day for every man, woman and child in the trading area covered by the circulation of our newspaper—or, say, $2000 for every 10000 persons. So you can calculate for yourself—you, a retailer, what is spent daily in our own community for food, shelter, clothing and for all other things.

OBITUARY

MRS. EMILY LANSING FOSTER

Friends in this locality have received intimation of the death of Emily Lansing, widow of the late Wallace D. Foster. Her demise occurred a few days ago at the home of her son, Percy, at Tisdale, Sask., after an illness of several weeks' duration.

Deceased was the daughter of the late Richard Lansing and was born in the vicinity of Flinton in the year 1857. She married Wallace D. Foster of Moira and made her home in that neighbourhood until the family moved to Saskatoon, thirty-one years ago. After going to the West, they were engaged in farming operations for a number of years, but retired to make their home in the village of Tisdale, about twelve years ago.

Mrs. Foster is survived by one son, Percy, and one daughter, Mrs. Fernman Doyle of Tisdale. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Kate McCauland of Cloncyne, and Mrs. Edward Harrison of Moira.

Mrs. Foster will be recalled to memory by those in her girlhood home and by many former friends at Moira, as a lady of exceedingly gracious and kindly disposition and devoted to the work of the church and other community causes. Her home was always a centre of hospitality where friends and acquaintances found a congenial welcome. She leaves behind her a wealth of friends and a legacy of good deeds.

WALTER MOORE

Walter Moore, youngest son of John N. Moore, formerly of Eldorado died at Brandon, Man., on December 18th. The following letter was written to his brother, Thomas, at Springfield:

Dear Sir:

I wish to convey to you the regrets and sympathy of myself, the staff and the men under my charge at this camp, on the passing of your brother, Walter Moore, who died suddenly last Wednesday in our Camp Hospital.

His death came as a great shock to us all in its suddenness and while the Camp Medical Officer was in attendance, unfortunately the severity of the seizure precluded his being able to do anything, and your brother expired within five minutes of the beginning of the attack. Death was due to the rupture of a large artery near the heart and consequent hemorrhage.

It may be a consolation to you to know that your brother suffered no pain and his passing was peaceful.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the Canadian Legion in Brandon, Saturday last, and I was present along with representatives from the staff. The pall bearers were Walter's workmates from the camp and the religious ordinances were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Garden, First United Church, Brandon. A Union Jack draped the coffin and three large wreaths were provided by subscription of the camp personnel.

During his association with us your brother proved himself a popular and willing worker and he was always held in high regard by his mates.

My own acquaintances with him since coming here, has been close and I feel his loss personal and I can assure you that he will be greatly missed in this Camp.

May I again express the sympathy of myself and my colleagues with you in your loss.

I am, yours, very truly,

C. V. Bishop Major,
Supt., Project No. 110.

JAMES BOYLE

On Tuesday evening, December 31, James Boyle passed away at Crookston after a brief illness.

The late Mr. Boyle was born in Belleville seventy-five years ago and resided there until a year ago, when he went to make his home at Crookston. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. James Boyle, who were early settlers in this district. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and during his long life in Belleville he was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Surviving are two brothers, Mr. Charles Boyle and Mr. Rufus H. Boyle, both of Belleville.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eggleton, Stirling's grand old couple, celebrated their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary at their home on New Year's Day. Their daughters, Mrs. Blakely and her family of Madoc, and Mrs. Benson of West Huntingdon, and sons Roy, Sam, Irvine and Hector, with their families were guests throughout the day.

DIONNE QUINTS

HELP PROVINCE

The Dionne quintuplets, who brought money to many during 1935 did grandly by the Ontario Government, the province's hotel-keepers, store owners, service station proprietors and almost everybody who sold anything on the roads that led to their birthplace.

While they grew from infancy in their modern hospital at Callander the babies played a major role as builders of the province's highways. When you wheel your car over smooth Ontario roads in the future, give those quintuplets credit for much of the comfort in your riding.

Over a four-month period, from June to September, 95,076 automobiles rolled their way around Dufferin Hospital and some 380,304 persons stepped out for a glance at the world's most famous babies.

In June, an average of 570 cars a day stopped at the quintuplet home. The number crept to 710 a day in July and burst to a high of 1,486 a day during August. As summer left, so did the visitors, and only 329 cars were seen during September.

Those figures, compiled by the Ontario Tourist Bureau, dropped at least $74,307 into the coffers of the Ontario Department of Highways in the four months and almost $1,000,000 into the pockets of the province's business men and women.

BOYS' PARLIAMENT

OPENS WITH POMP

The 15th Older Boys' Parliament of Ontario was opened in Toronto amid colorful pomp and ceremony on Friday night by Sir William Mullock, Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Appeal. Sir William officiated in the absence of the Lieutenant-Governor, Herbert A. Bruce.

The rules of the House were dispensed with to allow Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, to bring a word of welcome from Attorney General Roebuck, on behalf of the Ontario Government.

In offering cordial greetings to the young men, who held their sessions Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, Sir William said:

"The past 12 months have been a trying time in many ways and we are passing through days which are bringing out the best in the people of the province. The fine spirit of this Boys' Parliament, displayed through the Trail Rangers and Tuxis work is advancing the boy life of Ontario."

Mr. Marshall said: "If I may say a word of advice, I would ask you young men not to put too much faith in manuscript addresses, but to speak to the gathering straight from your mind. Your phrases sound too prepared when memorized."

Gordon Taylor of St. Thomas, in a brief address on "War" suggested the Parliament go on record as calling for the youth of Ontario to refuse to fight for a king, country or any nation of the world.

MANGLLED FROZEN BODY

FOUND ON R. R. TRACKS

The badly mangled and frozen body of a man believed to be from 30 to 35 years of age was found recently on the Canadian National Railway tracks, one and one-half miles east of Rooney's crossing in the township of Edwardsburg. The man, who had evidently fallen from a train during the night, was decapitated, his head being found 200 feet from the torso which was also minus an arm and a leg, found in the ditch.

On the body was a Bible without inscription. Dr. C. McPherson, coroner, of Prescott, was notified and will open an inquest.

ITALIAN OFFICER

SLAIN BY MEN

Authoritative quarters at Rome, admitted on Thursday there had been a revolt in one detachment of Italian troops stationed at Tripoli, Libya, and a Lieutenant had been killed by his men.

The admission came from official spokesmen when they were questioned about a report published abroad concerning the revolt.

The murdered Lieutenant Boini was the only victim of the revolt which involved only seven or eight men, it was affirmed.

The same spokesmen claimed the entire incident had been of a local nature and that the whole Italian colony of Libya was calm.

Miss Agnes C. Macphail, M.P., has gone to Louisiana, where she will speak for the National Student Federation of America at the University of Louisiana, Baton Rouge, and will go as far south as Dallas, Texas, speaking for the Federation.

COURT WILL BE

ASKED TO DECIDE IN VERMILYEA ESTATE

Notice of motion has been filed at Osgoode Hall that an application will be made on June 15th on behalf of the executors of the will of the late Catherine Aurelia Vermilyea of Belleville, murdered by her son, Harold Worden Vermilyea, on October 5, 1934, for an order that the official guardian represent Catherine Aurelia Vermilyea, 18, and Nathaniel Vermilyea, 15, children of Harold Worden Vermilyea, and Clarice Vermilyea, formerly the wife of H. W. Vermilyea.

The court will be asked to decide: (a) If the estate of Harold Worden Vermilyea is entitled to any share or interest under the will of Catherine Aurelia Vermilyea.

(b) If the estate of H. W. Vermilyea is entitled to any share or interest in the estate, to whom and in what proportions it is payable.

(c) If the estate of H. W. Vermilyea is not entitled to any share or interest, then to what party or parties should the executor of the estate of Catherine Aurelia Vermilyea convey the one-quarter interest in the residue, which, by her will, was directed to be paid to H. W. Vermilyea.

An executor, in an affidavit, sets out that he and H. W. Vermilyea were named as executors of the estate of Catherine Aurelia Vermilyea. He declares the inventory at probate showed assets of $47,524.

The estate was to be divided into four equal shares, among Helen Aurelia Faulkner, Arthur Foley Vermilyea, Clarence Wilfred Vermilyea, and Harold Worden Vermilyea.

The affidavit says that, so far as is known, no application for probate of any will of Harold Worden Vermilyea or any application for administration of his estate has been made in Ontario.

So far as the executor is aware, both of H. W. Vermilyea's children now reside in Ontario, California.

Charles Alfred Payne, K. C., of Belleville, who was retained by H. W. Vermilyea in connection with the murder charge, says Vermilyea advised him, prior to his execution on May 2, 1935, that he had made no will. Mr. Payne believes he died intestate.

SECLUSION IS FOUND IN WALES

A squad of a half a dozen police protected the Welsh retreat of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his family on Monday, assuring them the seclusion they crossed the Atlantic to find in the British Isles. They rested in the home of J. Llewellyn Morgan, father of Aubrey Neil Morgan, brother-in-law of Mrs. Lindbergh.

Three detectives guarded the grounds of the Morgan home in Llandaff, Wales, a suburb of Cardiff, two uniformed officers patrolled the streets on bicycles, and another watched over the district from a police car.

Madrid despatches said rumors the Lindberghs might seek another temporary haven in Spain were strengthened by reported negotiations on their behalf to purchase a small estate on Spain's Mediterranean "Costa Brava."

13 YEAR OLD BOY

STABS ASSAILANT OF HIS MOTHER

Rushing to the aid of his widowed mother, Mrs. Ann Woolnes, of Toronto, allegedly attacked by Bertram Robinson, a boarder, a 13-year-old boy, according to police, stabbed her assailant with a bread knife.

The affair allegedly occurred after a drinking party and Robinson was removed to a hospital with lacerations of the chest. The lad, immediately after the altercation, ran next door and asked police be notified.

When Sergeant Harold Nash and Constable W. Skimmings arrived the boy denied he had done the stabbing and Robinson, police said, claimed the wound was self-inflicted. On further questioning, the child admitted responsibility and he was taken to the Children's Shelter where he was charged with wounding.

Following investigation, Mrs. Woolnes, was charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency while a similar charge was laid against the injured man.

Eight-year-old Patricia Ann Ford, daughter of Wallace Ford, film actor, of Hollywood, loves dogs. At the same time, the Dionne quintuplets fascinate her. They prepared to place five tiny terriers—Patricia Ann's gift to the quintuplets—in a comfortable crate to be expressed to the babies at the Dafoe Hospital in Ontario. Each pup was tagged appropriately for each of the Dionnes.

COUNTY COUNCIL EFFECTS SAVINGS

Carefully controlled expenditures resulting in appreciable economies in nearly every department has resulted in Hastings County Council working well within their estimates during the past year, a brief review of activities of that body during 1935 will reveal.

Although no audit has been completed it is expected that considerable savings have been made in Mothers' Allowance and Old Age Pensions Committee costs, indigent account costs, administration of justice and municipal government costs in salaries and fees, and in other departments. This year a considerable saving has also resulted owing to the fact that all special grants were withdrawn at the last meeting of the Council by mutual consent. School requisition costs have also been reduced appreciably, it is believed, while even in the matter of corn borer control $208.00 only was paid against $400.00 last year. The saving in Northern road grants will reach nearly $5,000. The debenture debt at present has been reduced to about $82,000.00, which is declared by county officials to compare more than favorably with other counties throughout the province.

Counterbalancing the savings made are the unexpected uncontrollable expenditures, which this year listed improvements of the County House of Refuge in this class. On the suggestion of the Provincial Department this year over $14,000.00 was spent on the building for the installation of partitions, fire escapes and other protection. A total of $36,000.00 this year was also spent on the old $175,000.00 County bill for highways.

At the first meeting of the year in January councillors, of which there will be several new ones representing their various townships will have the choice of two candidates for the office of Warden for 1936, it is expected. Reeve W. C. West of Stirling Village and Reeve Lindsay Neal of Marmora and Lake, are expected to contest that seat, although no official statements have been given by either Reeve.

"We've had a good year, even though a strenuous one, and I can only congratulate the various chairmen of the committees for the manner in which you have conducted your various departments, and to thank you for the assistance that has been given me during my term of office," declared Warden James Bronson, capable guardian of the county's affairs and finances during the past year.

TWO CHILDREN DEAD,

TWO MORE ARE ILL POISONING SUSPECTED

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dixon of Leeburn, 30 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, are dead under circumstances that point to poisoning and two others have been rushed to a hospital at the Soo for observation.

The two younger children, Ellen, 4, and Neil, 2, took convulsions on Tuesday and died within an hour. William, 8, and Gwendolyn, 6, it is hoped, will recover.

How the children obtained any poisoned substance is not known. Provincial Constable James McBain of Bruce Mines, and Dr. V. S. Grigg, coroner, Bruce Mines, are investigating.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY

TO HATCHET ATTACK

Harold W. Hall, 22, formerly of Aylmer, pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting Elmer Weaver, 29, of St. Thomas on the night of December 13 with a hatchet. Magistrate Livermore reserved his sentence, remanding Hall for one week.

Strong representations on Hall's behalf were made by Mayor Fred Kaiser, and Blake Miller, ex-M.P., of Aylmer. Hall was also charged with theft of Weaver's car following the assault but neither elected nor pleaded on Tuesday.

STOLEN CAR HANGS

OVER 50 FOOT BANK

Rodney McRitchie, 23, on Thursday faced a charge of automobile theft but decided he was safer in jail than driving allegedly stolen cars. After crashing through a reinforced fence on Wednesday at Toronto, a car ended up hanging dangerously over a 50-foot embankment. Police heard the crash and saw a young man walking away from the wrecked car. McRitchie was arrested.

WILD PARTY IS

HELD IN CHURCH

With a pulpit, bible and collection plates borrowed from the Baptist Church of Palmyra, Ont., about thirty miles southeast of Chatham, services were held in the United Church there on Sunday when prayers were said for the persons, who desecrated the church by holding a wild New Year's Eve drinking party in it.

As scandalized villagers awaited the result of a Provincial Police investigation into the wild party, the United Church Board arranged to have the damage repaired.

W. T. Street, chairman of the Board, greeted the church on Friday to be entered by a strong odor of stale beer. He looked about and saw the pulpit had been smashed, the collection plates broken and the bible torn to shreds. Beer evidently had been splashed all over the pews, carpets and walls. Police were notified and have started on the trail of the culprits.

FERGUSONS LEAVE FOR SOUTH AFRICA

The G. Howard Fergusons, home less than a month after spending five years in London, left Monday night for South Africa on a voyage designed to aid Mrs. Ferguson's health. They expect to be away two or three months.

Little more than a month ago the former High Commissioner to Great Britain was relieved of his London post by Hon. Vincent Massey. The Fergusons came home to spend Christmas on their Kemptville farm and then moved into Toronto. But the plans didn't work out.

Christmas Eve the former Ontario Premier got out the old red cutter and took Mrs. Ferguson for a drive. Mrs. Ferguson caught cold that night and was ill a week. It was the ex-High Commissioner who cooked

Mr. Ferguson said. The couple will sail from New York and possibly visit India as well as South Africa.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER FOR THE FARMER

Issued by the Central Experimental Farms, Ottawa, Ont.

The Development of Pasture Strains of Timothy

One of the major projects of the Division of Forage Plants at Ottawa is the breeding of improved strains of timothy. The main objective in this work is the development of leafy persistent pasture strains. Recent experiments have shown that timothy ranks first in palatability among pasture grasses, and its nutritive value, winter-hardiness and good seeding habits amply justify an extension of its use in pasture mixtures. However, the type of timothy grown in Canada, or imported, is a stemmy hay type which tends to seed freely but lacks the leafiness and free tillering habit of growth which is typical of the best plants for grazing. The breeding stocks used in this project consist chiefly of native material collected from almost every county in Ontario and Quebec, and from most of the other provinces. Plants are selected on the basis of growth form, those being used as parents which conform to ideal types for pastures or for a combination hay and pasture type. Another consideration in the breeding of timothy is the development of rust resistant strains. Twenty selections of the hay type have been isolated during the progress of this study. These are almost completely rust resistant at Ottawa.

Colds in Poultry

Colds in poultry are very contagious. If it is noticed that a hen in the poultry house has discharged from the eyes or nostrils, and is choking, she should be removed at once. To prevent the spread of the trouble among the birds, add one teaspoonful of potassium permanganate per 3 or 4 gallons of drinking water.

Mr. Samuel Fargey lost a valuable horse in a somewhat mysterious manner recently. Mr. Fargey had just recently purchased the horse at the Fleming Estate sale, and on Saturday the animal thought it would like to go home for a visit and instead of going by way of the highway took up the railroad track. Near Crookston it became fast in the cattle guards and before help came, due to exposure, and struggling the animal died.

PLANTING YOUNG FISH FROM AIRPLANES TRIED

Planting young fish from airplanes in Quebec lakes was described by B. W. Taylor of the Provincial Department of Game and Fisheries at Ottawa recently. He was addressing the Fisheries Conference.

"In the Laurentian Counties," Mr. Taylor said, "There are a number of small lakes on which a plane could not possibly land. Consequently experiments were carried on in dropping fish directly from the flying plane to the water. With improvised nets on one occasion there was dropped from 100 feet at an approximate speed of from 75 miles an hour, 1000 two and a half inch fingerlings." He explained only 45 dead fish were found so the loss was less than five per cent and not all that was due to the fall.

FAMILY AGREE

RELATIVE DEAD

One of the strangest chapters in Canadian history was nearing a close on Friday as fisherfolk of the coastal village of Etang du Nord, Magdalen Islands, prepared to bury Didier Fougere, whose funeral had been delayed nearly two weeks because the family reported signs of life in the body.

Not until Friday night when rigor mortis was unmistakable and a slight odor was perceptible, did the family give up hope the 71-year-old fishery officer and mail courier would recover.

Fearing her father, Didier Fougere, may go to his grave alive, Mrs. Wm. Patton of Halifax hoped to reach him before his funeral.

Learning Friday night the relatives at Etang du Nord had for the first time given up hope for recovery of the one-legged man who had lain in what they believed to be a strange state of unconsciousness prepared to leave when she was told an airplane was at her disposal.

"If she does not see her father herself before they bury his body, she will never believe he was not buried alive," her husband stated.

The funeral was to have been held on Saturday.

The lumber industry in Ontario, which for some years has been in the doldrums, is now being stirred by the accelerating breezes of thriving industry. Fifty-two camps containing in all 3,180 bushmen have been established in Northern Ontario to provide for the increasing demand for lumber.

BODY OF INFANT IS FOUND FROZEN

The finding of a frozen body of a newly born male child in the snow of Rose Park, Welland, gave the police a new mystery to solve on Monday.

With blood stains seemingly quite fresh, and with the snow under the little body melted, the authorities were led, with the aid of Coroner Dr. Duncan Allison, to the conclusion that the little six-pound piece of humanity had been placed where it was found, alive, and not many minutes after it had been born, and that it had died from exposure. The body was that of a normal child, authorities state. When found, not even a newspaper covered it.

Coroner Dr. Duncan Allison has ordered an inquest.

HAS PLAN TO SETTLE

100 BRITISH FAMILIES

A plan to settle 100 British families in Saskatchewan as a cost of $1,250,000 under consideration for three years, neared a conclusion on Monday.

The scheme, according to John R. Garden of Wolseley, Saskatchewan, who with Brig.-Gen. M. L. Horby, of Lethbridge, Alta., has been working to have the settlers come here, is ready to be launched within a few months.

The plan involves the transfer from Derby County, England, of experienced farmers to land between Wolseley and Sintaluta, Sask.

A Woodstock business man put in a busy afternoon doing his Christmas shopping, brought out an armful of parcels and placed them in the wrong auto, then went back into the shop for something else. He came out again, found the car gone, remembered he had parked somewhere else then drove to the police station and asked the forces of the law if they could help him out.

Taking your Dollar to Market

EVERY year your family, and every family of your acquaintance, spends about 70 per cent. of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilities and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

That part of spending is readily understood. But do you realize that every manufacturer and retailer of these necessities is planning how he can get your dollar?

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

13 MINERS DROWNAS BOAT UPSETS

Thirteen miners were drowned on Sunday when a launch laden with Christmas excursionists from the British Guiana goldfields overturned in the Essequibo River.

Word of the tragedy reached Georgetown, British Guiana on Monday from a village far up the river where 18 survivors of the accident awaited transportation into Georgetown saddened by the deaths of their fellows and left almost destitute by the loss of most of the gold they were carrying home.

Only meagre details of their homecoming's tragic interruption were given in messages reaching Georgetown. Cause of the ship's capsizing was not explained but it was believed the little launch had been sent to the bottom in one of the numerous rapids along the river's course.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By Edson R. Waite)

Among the various publications coming to my attention was a copy of the U. S. Army Recruiting News, published by the Recruiting Publicity Bureau, Governors Island, New York.

This magazine, according to its masthead is published "in the interest of recruitment for the Regular Army, the National Guard, the Organized Reserves, the R.O.T.C. and C.M.T.C. Between its covers—16 pages in all—there is found news and semi-technical articles covering completely this wide field. In addition to the items dealing with up-to-the-minute affairs of the military service, there are also historical articles of interest to the general reading public. All in all, the reader may gain from this magazine an accurate and interesting picture of the Army, past and present.

All the work on this magazine, including writing, art, make-up and printing, is done by Regular Army personnel, officers and enlisted men.

Frederick Sullens, Editor of the Jackson, Miss., News, says:

"The gravest danger involved in the Federal Relief Program is that it may result in the development of a nation of mendicants.

"That multiplied thousands have benefited during the past year from the munificence of the government cannot be doubted.

"Having found that it is possible to live without working, they may continue to follow the line of least resistance.

"Too many people are depending on the Government for support. The point has already been reached where recipients of Uncle Sam's bounty also expect him to put them to bed at night, tuck in the covers, say their prayers, and kiss them good night."

WEDDINGSCRAIGHEAD-BENSON

A very pretty Yuletide wedding was solemnized at the United church parsonage, Ivanhoe, by Rev. H. H. Lackie on Saturday, December 28, at 10.30 o'clock when Nora Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. Edward Benson, became the bride of Mr. Percy Stanley Craighead, eldest son of Mrs. John Craighead of Stirling.

The bride looked charming in a gown of blue crepe with velvet trimmings, with hat and accessories to match.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Benson of Ivanhoe.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Ingersoll, Brampton and points west. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Stirling.

THE OATSMOBILE

Oh, horse, you are a wonderful brute,
No buttons to push, no horn to toot.
You start yourself, no clutch to slip,
No spark to miss, no gears to strip;
No license buying every year,
With plates to screw on front and rear.

No gas bills climbing up each day,
Stealing the joys of life away;
No speed cops chugging in your rear
Yelling summons in your ear.
Your inner tubes are all O.K.
And thank the Lord they stay that way!

Your spark plugs never miss and fuss,

Your motor never makes one cuss.
Your frame is good for many a mile,
Your body never changes style.
Your wants are few and easy met—
You've something on the auto yet!

CHARGES ARE LAID AGAINST CONSTABLES

Crown Attorney Frank Moore of Toronto announced on Monday that charges of causing grievous bodily harm have been laid against three York Township Police constables in connection with the shooting of Frank Vandryagt on Friday night in a chase of suspected shop-breakers.

The three charged are Constables Walter Carson, Cecil Rsebrook and J. Hendricks. The action was taken following a conference among Mr. Moore, Chief John Faulds and Magistrate William Keith.

The Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, meeting in Toronto to discuss teachers' problems, was given a message on Friday by C. N. Crutchfield of the Canadian Teachers' Federation. Mr. Crutchfield, who comes from Shawinigan Falls, Que., said the teacher was the one person who could guide the world out of its present distress.

MADOC WINS AND LOSES

Two hockey games have been played in the local Arena since last Wednesday with the locals winning one and losing one. On Wednesday night of last week Stirling took a 4-2 decision from the locals in what was the best game of the season to be played here. For two periods both teams were held to a single corner but in the final frame the visitors outscored the gold and blacks 3-1 to make the final count 4-2.

On Monday night Marmora made their first appearance here this season when they lost to Madoc 5-2 in the poorest exhibition of hockey ever to be staged in the local rink. Early in the game it was seen that Marmora had brought an incapable official with them with the result that everything went and a fine game of shinny resulted with the odd fistic encounter thrown in for good measure.

HERE AND THERE

Another good way to get an education by mail is to get on a sucker bet.

A man who thinks of nobody but himself, usually has a very limited field of thought.

Be sure you are right, but don't be too sure that everybody else is wrong.

It seems to be the accepted principle now, that we should save money for the other fellow's rainy day.

"One either carries on or drowns and lets the world go by. My purpose now at 82 is not to reach the maximum of years but of output."—33r William F. Petrie.

"Everything that is worth while in the world has been accomplished by the free, enquiring, critical spirit, and the preservation of this spirit is more important than any social system whatsoever."—Sinclair Lewis.

Parents should give a warning periodically to their children regarding the danger of firearms. Firearms should not be handled by children and are a serious menace in the hands of a grown-up boy unless he thoroughly understands and handles them safely. "I did not think the gun was loaded," is too often a fatal guess.

Pay as you go. This is golden advice that will keep the business world moving, the wheels of industry from rusting out, and the money will surely come back to you. Now pay your neighbour on your right the dollar you owe him, and he will pay his neighbour on the right and so on the dollar will travel until it will come around again to your hand from your neighbour on the left. Try it.

It was Alfred Noyes, the poet, who said: "Most people at the present day are sleepwalkers. They are alive but they are not awake. They don't realize their own marvellous possessions or readily perceive the world about them. If, for instance," he said, "the trees were to break into leaf only once in a generation, and flowers appear on the earth only once in twenty-five years, the beauty of that appearance would be overwhelming." Just so it is with our blessings and privileges, they are so abundant and frequent, we sometimes lose their real value of beauty."

Hon. Dr. L. J. Simpson, Minister of Education, speaking at the commencement exercises of Bradford High School is quoted as declaring that "Departmental entrance examinations will soon be a thing of the past" and "more and more pupils will be passed on teachers' recommendations." Undoubtedly the policy of standardizing schools, and the continual bogging of preparing pupils for examinations in both the high school and the last years of the public school, is a far from the real purpose of true education. The average citizen would consider some of the questions which appear on examination papers as useless, misleading and a long way from practical common sense.

Today the tendency is to stress the importance of looking after those who are not employed, while very little is heard concerning those who are doing something and keeping the world going. If it were not for the latter, however, the former as well

We should accept responsibility for our acts from childhood and there would be fewer patients in our mental hospitals, says the Exeter Times-Advocate, arguing thusly: To a far greater extent than we know we have been responsibility-dodgers. We lay waste our power, we squander our money, we waste our time, we talk and talk and loaf, we follow the easiest lines of conduct, we develop moral flabbiness and softheadedness and then how like banshees because we reap just what we have sown. When dear little Jackie comes home from school well tanned because he didn't get his lessons, we try to get the teacher fired and then talk about a cruel world when the hopeful turns out not to be worth a hoot when he is sent out to earn his living. We start one of our youngsters to get on his own and then pay his bills, though he and his deary ducky have proven slackers at every turn. When hard luck comes to their doors we blame everyone but ourselves and themselves. When our young people raise the devil, we blame the churches. We heard a prime minister blame the hard times on some people in the West on the Rocky Mountains or on the way the earth turned! It's a great world, all right, all right.

MARCHING FORWARD

Britain still marches forward. Savings per head of the population in England and Wales have gone up from £3 7s 11d in 1934 to £3 15s 7d in 1935. Retail sales have increased by 8 per cent since 1934 and by 12 per cent since 1933. And look at the 40,000 drop in unemployment announced by Mr. Chamberlain. We are reaping the reward of the confidence that four years of stable government have created.—London Sunday Express.

A LOT FOR A CENT

A story is told of a Sunday dinner at which the family was criticizing the church service all had attended. Father objected to the sermon, says an exchange, and mother thought it time they hired a new organist. Daughter was severe on the defects of the choir. The son of the house listened uneasily to all this criticism. Finally he put in his word: "After all, dad, I think it was a lot for a cent."

That story should set some of us thinking. Often we have come home from church or Sunday School in a critical mood, and have a lot to say about parts of which we disapprove. After all, however, have we not received a lot in comparison with the little we have given?—Huntsville Forester.

GREATER CARE NEEDED

When winter comes and spring is far away, when streets and highways are icy and the "skid" is an ever constant problem, the necessity is greater than ever for careful automobile driving. This is a self-evident truth and nobody more than the sane driver deprecates the fact that because it is ignored by motorists who are less sane automobile accidents are becoming more frequent. And it is for this reason that the authorities, very properly, are cautioning drivers to be strict in the observance of the leading traffic regulations. They are: Go slow on curves, when going up hill on high, cut off and float over the crest ready for a quick stop; never cut out of line to pass a car unless you are sure of ample room; never pass another car on a hill or a curve; slow down at cross roads and street intersections; never turn your head while driving; slow down as it gets dark, and keep below the statutory thirty miles an hour after dark.

SANTA CLAUS WOVES 'EM WITH NEW TECHNIQUE

The following article, taken from The Border Cities Star, was written by Bill Duggan, formerly of Madoc: "From the look of this paper to-day," said the Executive Editor to the City Editor, "there must be a lot of Santa Clauses running around loose." The Executive Editor brooded for a moment and then he said: "Why couldn't we have a Santa Claus of our own? Just tell him to go out and be Santa Claus and come back here and write a story about it."

Hunt for Victim

"It's a great idea," said the City Editor, "but who have we got that would make a good Santa Claus?"

The Executive Editor peered over his glasses at the lads doing two finger exercises on their typewriters.

"There's the old victim, Duggan, sitting down there at the end trying to look busy. How about him?" suggested the Executive Editor.

"It's a great idea, let's tell him about it," said the City Editor.

So that's how it happened that I may have been observed yesterday afternoon sinking furtively toward the C. H. Smith store. Oh, there was no trouble about the arrangements. Just a telephone call to Mr. Smith in which he was requested to let me use his department store to play Santa Claus in, and the nefarious deception was organized.

Mr. Smith greeted me heartily and turned me over to Frank J. Williamson.

"What is your name again?" asked Mr. Williamson.

"Santa—I mean Duggan," I said.

Dafoe Product

So you're the fellow who brags about being brought into the world by Dr. Dafoe's father, eh?" said Mr. Williamson. "Well let me tell you something—I was born in Madoc and it was Dr. Dafoe's father that brought me into the world. So what do you think of that?"

"Well you can imagine that Mr. Williamson and I had some very agreeable conversation which had nothing whatever to do with Santa Claus and we both agreed that after one has lived his youth around Madoc the future holds little. Oh, well.

Mr. Williamson scurried around the Men's Department and brought forth a box containing a Santa Claus suit. He secured a huge pair of rubber boots and then the two of us started converting me into Santa Claus. After we finished the job I was forced to admit that I made a very good Santa Claus, indeed. Not quite as plump as the original and not so rosy of cheek, but it was a fair imitation.

"Be careful when you sit down," counselled Mr. Williamson, "for I see there's a bit of a rip in the seat of those pants, and look out for that pin there."

Basement First

Mr. Williamson combed my flowing white locks and beard through his fingers to straighten out a few kinks and then turned me loose. I went down through the basement to try out the effect on some clerks who were trundling packing cases. They seemed impressed so I clumped my big rubber boots right into the toy department.

"Here comes Santa," was the gleeful shout that greeted me, and bright-faced little children came running from all sides, forgetting their interest in steamshovels and doll bugles at the sight of a real live, though somewhat emaciated, Santa Claus.

"Hello boys and girls," I bellowed through my beard and then paused to pluck some of it out of my teeth. You see, I had forgotten to practice talking through a beard.

"Hello, boys and girls," I said again, "now come up here and tell Santa what you all would like for Christmas."

From all sides the tidal wave was rolling toward me. Mothers, yes, and fathers, were grabbing their children by the arms and telling them, "Look, there's Santa Claus."

I felt rather mean for a moment. Shouldn't I speak right out like a man and say, "No, children, I'm not really Santa Claus. I'm just an old faker." But no, that wouldn't do. Way, these happy little boys and girls knew I was Santa Claus.

Down to Brass Tacks

I said to one little fellow: "Do you believe in Santa Claus?" and he said, "Sure I do, mister, what are you going to bring me?"

"What do you want, my little man?" I asked clawing at my beard again.

"I want a twain that goes around and around," he said.

"Oh, you do, eh," I said. "Well just hold on here a minute until I get your name down in my little book." Well, sir, I whipped out a note book and a pencil and you should have seen em. I thought to myself, Gosh, this must be a new idea. Am I the first Santa Claus that ever thought of taking down the kids' names and what they wanted for Christmas? Anyway, if department store owners ever want to block up the aisles of their toy shops just let 'em get a Santa Claus like me who really takes a pride in his work.

I had hardly started the job when who should come along but little Bertie Johnson. The Star photographer and Little Normie Hull. They're the two lads who nearly got stood on their beam ends out in Lake Erie when they were trying to rescue a freighter.

Gets Told Off

"What do you want Santa to bring you for Christmas?" I asked little Bertie.

"No more pictures to take of fake Santa Clauses like you," said Bertie. "Hush, Bertie," I said. "Don't disillusion those little children. You see, they believe in me. And now, Normie, what would you like to find in your stocking Christmas morning?"

"Some of those cushy assignments you get," said Normie. And I marked that down.

Well, in spite of his gruff manner, Bertie insisted on getting a picture of me, and I let him take one, "although usually averse to publicity."

"Better take another shot," I advised Bertie, "in case that one doesn't come out so good."

After that business was over the children and I got together to find out what they wanted for Christmas.

Lists Youngsters

There was little Marie LaFortune of 142 Monmouth road. Marie wanted a doll's cupboard, a pair of slippers and a doll's washing machine, all very useful articles about the house. I could see no reason why Marie shouldn't have them so I made notes in the little book.

Frankie McGuire, aged five years, of 1224 Ouellette avenue, confided in my ear is that all he wants is electric twain that goes wound and wound and a pair of bob skates. Sybil Eilish, also five years old, who lives at 707 Goyeau street, will be happy Christmas morning if she finds a doll's house and buggy beside her bed.

"And what is your name, little girl?"

"It's Mary Piper and I live at 711 Goyeau street," said Mary.

"What would you like Santa Claus to bring you?"

"A doll bed—a table—and a chair—a buggy—and a big dolly."

"My goodness gracious," I said, "all that?"

"Yes, please," said Mary.

Overtime Job

"O.K.," said I "but I'm afraid the factory will have to work overtime." Frankie Edwin Hallett, six years old, of 707 Goyeau street, wanted a fire truck with ladders on it, a train and an airplane. Lots Turnbull, aged four, of 1750 Bruce street, said all she wants is a doll buggy, a doll to go in it, a suit case and a dress, while her big brother Bobby, aged six, wants a hockey stick and a puck.

Michael Best, six years old, living at 188 Windermere road, said he wanted a tool set, a Buck Jones cowboy suit, a boat and an airplane and Margaret Suddick, the same age, of 1624 Howard avenue, wants a mama doll and a doll bed. Freda Chonaski, nine years old, living at 1008 Tuscarora street, said she would be satisfied with a Shirley Temple doll, a writing desk and a chair.

Billie Ritchie, 8, of 188 Windermere road, thought fast and decided he will be well-pleased if he gets a cowboy suit, a wagon and a ping pong set, while Joe LaFortune, whose sister, Marie, appears higher in the list, wants a typewriter and a pair of slippers.

While all this was going on I was wondering to myself how to stop being Santa Claus. This thing was easy enough to start but it seemed to keep rolling on indefinitely.

Solves Problem

Suddenly I said, "Well, boys and girls, Santa is a very busy man right at this time of year and he has a lot of places to go, so—I guess I'll have to be going."

And shutting up my little notebook with a snap I beat a hasty retreat, doffed my Santa Claus garb, extricated myself from the beard and long white whiskers. I then went across the street and shot a couple of very satisfactory games of smooker by way of settling my nerves.

You may take it from one who knows by personal experience, the Santa Claus job is no sinecure.

The friends of Mr. Stewart Alger of Oshawa, formerly of Tweed, will be interested to learn that he was elected Alderman in the recent Municipal elections in that city. Mr. Alger was in second position in the matter of total votes cast. He served as Alderman last year.

Must Be Abortion Free

A ruling which was not unexpected has been made by the Health of Animals Branch at Ottawa. Effective on January 1st all cattle six months old and more of dairy or breeding type exported to the United States must be accompanied by a certificate saying they are free from Bang's disease, also known as infectious abortion.

A certificate signed or endorsed by an official veterinarian of the country or origin must show that the animals are free from the disease and have been subjected to a test within 30 days of the date of exportation showing negative results of the disease.

Official advice received from the United States, Federal Department of Agriculture by Dr. George Hilton, Canadian Veterinary General, said the order does not include cattle exported for immediate slaughter, steers and sprayed heifers and cattle for grazing or feeding which are not of the dairy breeding type. Dr. Hilton said the Health of Animals Branch is prepared to assist farmers in taking necessary measures to free their herds from the disease.

Alsike Seed Production

A survey at the end of October would indicate the following commercial alsike seed production in Canada this year:

Central and Western Ontario, 200,000 pounds, which is a decidedly light crop when compared with the eight to ten million pounds which used to be produced annually in this part of Canada. A negligible crop is reported from North-western Ontario which ordinarily supplies a fair quantity of seed, and only about 5,000 pounds of reasonably pure alsike is indicated in the Temiskaming districts of North-western Ontario and Quebec. About two carloads are reported in the Prince George production district of British Columbia. In addition there may be 1,000,000 pounds of timothy containing more or less alsike in the Temiskaming districts of Ontario and Quebec.

A shortage of alsike for normal Canadian requirements, which approximates 1,500,000 pounds per annum, seems inevitable for next spring, although there may be some importations from the United States and Europe to increase the supply.

The crop this year in Ontario is fair in general appearance and in freedom from weed seeds, but any alsike that will grade under the Dominion Seeds Act should be in strong demand.

Prices paid growers in 1935 have not yet been established, but in 1934 when alsike was scarce also, growers received from 20 to 25c per lb. No. 1 grade.

Avoid Scab in Potatoes

There is more than fertility of soil to be considered in crop production. Potato growers can increase their yields by the application of fertilizer, this crop being one that responds readily to the right formulas. Markets demand more than volume, however, and a scab-covered lot of tubers are likely to be rejected by dealers. The terms of this disease are usually present in soils on which potatoes have been grown for some years, the continuous planting adding to the trouble. The seed may be treated with formaldehyde or corrosive sublimate but if placed in infected ground the scab will promptly appear. If lime has been applied within the previous year or two the conditions are even more favourable for the development of the disease.

The application of lime is recommended in order to stimulate the growth of clover and alfalfa, the two crops that are well fitted to improve the soil when turned under. The problem of the grower is to decide whether to continue to grow potatoes without this green manuring and avoid scab or to lime the ground and take chances. Where potatoes are not a main crop it is possible to plan a rotation in which liming is done after other crops and potatoes included after a five year period. Another plan is to choose scab resistant varieties of which there are a few offered. Unfortunately these are not such high yielders though in course of time strains may be developed that combine productiveness with disease resistance, as already accomplished in wheat.

Expansion in Poultry Industry

The poultry industry in South-western Ontario has undergone rapid expansion in recent years, growing slowly from the small farm flock of a dozen or two hens to the large flock and in some instances to the larger specialized poultry farms. At one time all the operations of breeding, incubation, egg production, fattening and preparing for market were carried out on the farm under single management, but now in many instances we find major operations carried out at some specialized plant. However, the general-purpose poultry farm where all or nearly all the operations are carried out still remains the safest undertaking and the backbone of the industry.

In conformity with other farm products poultry has its lean years, but a well-managed flock could generally be relied upon to return some profit. The rule that only the best will survive under keen competition may be seriously applied to poultry-keeping due to the small profit per unit; a hen may lay one egg or she may lay 350 in a year, and the overhead expense of the poor hen is remarkably close to that of the high producer, but there is a vast difference in the revenue.

A glance at the laying contest reports will disclose the remarkable difference between flocks, and probably more than any other factor, these contests, held in all the provinces, under Dominion Government management, have done great service in stimulating selective breeding and pointing out the difference in the production of a good flock and a poor one.

OBITUARY

Friends at Queensboro learned with regret of the passing of Mrs. R. S. Allan, a former resident of Queensboro. The late Mrs. Allan was well known throughout the community and also at Cooper where she lived before moving with the late Mr. Allan to Queensboro. She resided there until seven years ago. Since that time she has made her home at Carleton Place and Toronto, where she passed away on January 4th. Interment was made at Cooper Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, January 5th.

CANADIAN OYSTER

TRIED IN BRITAIN

When Julius Caesar invaded Britain back in 55 B.C., he probably had his first taste of the British oyster, which is considered the best in Britain today and held in the highest esteem by the gourmet. It is known as the Whitstable. Oysters are much consumed in Great Britain and the demand continues during the spring and summer months. Supplies are imported from Holland, France and the United States. In the case of oyster from the United States, there are "Bluepoints" for immediate consumption and "East River" for relaying. Canadian oysters have been tried out on the British market but they have been too large to meet requirements of the importer who requires a smaller oyster which will pack from 1,400 to 1,500 to a barrel with a minimum of 1,000 oysters. Tight packing is essential so as to reduce movement in transit. It is considered there is a market for oysters from Eastern Canada when supplies are more abundant. The great oyster bearing beds in Eastern Canada are located along the shores of the Strait of Northumberland and off Prince Edward Island.

PRESENTATION

AND ADDRESS

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy, Sidney, on Friday, January 3rd, when about sixty friends and relatives gathered at a miscellaneous shower to honour Mr. and Mrs. John Kingston (nee Mildred Cassidy). Mr. A. Wright was chosen as chairman and a short program was given. Mr. Gordon Garrison and Mr. Roy Roblin gave a couple of musical numbers. Miss Lena Sutherland and Miss Hazel Keene each gave a reading. The following address was read by Miss Helen Hart:

Dear Mildred and John:

We, your friends and relatives, have gathered here this evening to extend to you our best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

You, Mildred, who have been a willing and efficient worker in all church activities connected with the community, we wish happiness and prosperity in your new home.

Although we will miss you greatly we are glad to know that you will be living near us and hope you will often return to see your Centenary friends.

John, although some of us do not know you very well, we hope to get better acquainted and that you will have all the happiness you both deserve.

The preacher declared it. The papers have said, That a lad and a lassie Have lately been wed.

The young couple united We see them with pride, Are John Kingston the groom, And Mildred Cassidy the bride.

We trust that your future Will always be bright, Your pathway joyous Your troubles be light.

Now, if shadows should come, Just whistle and sing It will make the clouds vanish And much brightness bring.

Mildred, be to your husband A kind and loving wife, And then he will love you The rest of your life.

Now on this occasion We have brought you tonight, A few little gifts Which we hope you will like.

Just accept these few gifts As a slight token we pray, Of the love and esteem We shall bear you always.

Signed on behalf of your friends from Centenary.

PANAMA'S SMALLEST

COIN HAS VALUE

OF 2½ CENTS

Down in Panama the smallest coin is known as a "medio," worth about 2 1-2 cents, there being no 1-cent pieces. The coin is used extensively by the poorer classes of the population. All goods capable of being reduced in lots to such value are quoted in that unit. This is particularly the case with biscuits of the cheap variety which are very much in favour with the native population. The United States supplies the greater portion of this trade, while Great Britain caters to the demand for fancy or more expensive types of biscuits. Canada enjoys a comparatively small share of the trade along with Germany. There is somewhat limited domestic production of cheap biscuits by individual bakers, more or less as a sideline. There is a steady and considerable consumption of soda biscuits, largely among the native population.

ADVERTISING Is Good For Us

The dusty picture of an optimist and a pessimist—the optimist being the doughnut and the pessimist the hole—is just a way of describing most of us: some of us habitually look on the bright side of things; others on the dark side. Always there are those who have a melancholy pleasure in fault-finding. And so there are always those who look upon advertising as an economic waste and a means by which the sale of inferior merchandise can be promoted. It is quite possible to discover wrong things about advertising—just as it is possible to find wrong things about water and air, about books and speeches, about motor cars and aeroplanes, about schools and churches, about Canadians and Scotsmen, about knives and forks.

Advertising is news and information, and who shall say that is wrong to communicate news and information? It would be a pretty dull world, full of dull people, if there ceased to be a dissemination of news and information.

In all ages and in all countries those giving out news and information have attracted to themselves attentive audiences; and this is as true today as it was 1000, 2000, 3000 years ago.

What Stores Are Busiest?

Is it not those stores which give out most information about what they have to sell? The public is daily spending money—probably $2 a day for every man, woman and child in the trading area covered by the circulation of our newspaper—or, say, $2000 for every 10000 persons. So you can calculate for yourself—you, a retailer, what is spent daily in our own community for food, shelter, clothing and for all other things.

PRESENTATION

AND ADDRESS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. MacMillan of Crookston was the scene of a very pleasant gathering when the many friends and neighbours joined to extend their congratulations and high esteem to the newlyweds. A number of contests and community singing helped to make the evening a success, and later in the evening Mr. Reg. Haggerty called the gathering to order. Miss M. Latta read the following address:

Dear Norma and James:

We, your friends, and neighbours, have gathered here this evening for a two-fold purpose. First, to extend to you our heartfelt congratulations in your having reached the second important stage of your life, namely, the matrimony stage. Second, some one has wisely said that our homes are the greatest and noblest institutions of our land. You are starting a new home. Our sincere desire is that your newly founded home will embrace all the virtues that go to make an ideal home.

You've launched your craft for life. Upon the matrimonial sea, And may you both while sailing o'er Staunch craftsmen prove to be.

Should clouds arise we grant that they With silver may be lined. But quickly vanish even those, Leaving no trace behind.

And happy may your voyage be, With sunshine all along. To brighten both your paths, and make Your lives one grand sweet song.

Now with yourselves your joys will rest, We hope they'll not be few, When many years have rolled around With pleasure you'll review.

The marriage vow, are sacred ties, Your hearts with joy doth bind, And as each anniversary comes, Your lives be more entwined.

To you how bright the future looms, What prospects are in view, And may they all be realized, Is our best wish to you.

Your home should ever be to you The dearest spot on earth, May cares pass lightly o'er and leave A cheerful fireside hearth.

We hope you live in wedded bliss, Right here, for many years; And Jim! Remember, often a kiss, Will dry a woman's tears.

Norma, we know, will be faithful and good, A helpmate in every way. And remember Norma, wholesome food, Often helps to save the day.

We wish you every happiness In this your wedded life, And may your days be full of bliss, As husband and as wife.

And now we'll end our little rhyme,

MEETING OF

TRINITY Y. P. U.

The Young People's Union of Trinity United Church met on Monday evening, January 13th. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss M. Ferguson, by singing "We Have Heard the Joyful Sound." The Lord's prayer was repeated in unison and the minutes were read and adopted. Jean Whytock, the secretary, read three letters to the gathering from the Conference President, Missionary Convener President and Peter Bryce. "A Better Day is Coming" was sung and the collection taken. Miss M. Ferguson took charge of the program for Mrs. V. Jack, Missionary Convener. The scripture from Acts 24-44 was read by Bryden Lowery, followed by a reading along the same line. "The Spirit of Jesus at Work" was read by Miss McDermid. Kathleen Parks gave a piano solo which was enjoyed by all. Reta Smith, Luella Wickens and Ella Fluke each read a short paper on Africa. "Someone is Missing" was sung by the Misses E. Salisbury and M. Bronson. A very interesting topic was given by Miss M. Ferguson, "A Glimpse of South Africa."

The meeting was closed by singing "The Whole Wide World for Jesus," and the Mizpah benediction.

FIX CROSSING AT SHARBOT LAKE

Waging war on railway level crossings which have been taking an increasing annual toll of human lives, a total of $1,400,000 approximately was committed in 1935 for remedial work across Canada. It was estimated. The sum represents an increase of about $500,000 over 1934 commitments.

Twenty-five per cent of the $1,400,000 has been actually expended. The balance will be spent in 1936 as work on the authorized projects is carried out.

Showing amounts of Dominion commitments, ranging from 40 to 100 per cent, of the total cost in different instances, major works authorized by the Governor-in-Council in the last five months include:

Plain Road, Halton County, on C.N.R., $147,000; Morrisburg, Ont., on C.N.R., $105,000; Sharbot Lake, Ont., on C.P.R., $9,200; Fauquier, Ont., on Kapuskasing subdivision of C.P.R., $3,135.

With wishes all sincere, We hope you'll like your presents And can use each one with cheer.

Signed on behalf of the Ivanhoe and Crookston communities: Mr. and Mrs. Baylis, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Haggerty, Miss Olive Ashe, Miss Sadie Wickens, Mrs. Leslie Blakely.

The gifts were brought in, which consisted of a cedar chest, a Kenwood blanket, and smoker. The young couple then thanked everyone and all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Lunch was served which brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

The bearers were Messrs. Edward Good, Leslie Adams, Fred Porter, Murney Hamilton, Chester Adams and Fred Coulter.

MRS. ELLA C. HAZARD

Mrs. Ella Cinderella Hazard, wife of Mr. Benjamin Franklin Hazard, died suddenly at the family residence at Plainfield on Sunday, January 12. She was apparently in her usual state of health when taken with a heart seizure from which she failed to rally.

The late Mrs. Hazard was in her 65th year and was born at Glen Ross, her parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. John Haggerty. For some years she resided at Gunter; for the past twenty-one years she had made her home at Plainfield. NEW PIPELESS ORGAN MADE NEAR TRENTON

A Canadian wave organ, now nearly complete in the factory near Trenton, will be installed and demonstrated in Toronto within a few weeks. Information on this comes to The Star from Morse Robb, inventor, who years ago demonstrated his first few "stops" of this pipeless organ at the CFCA studio. Since that time the inventor has been steadily working on his pioneer organ in this field. The aim of the pipeless organ is to make better organs possible at lower cost.

The Toronto demonstration will be of a complete modern organ with no pipes.

Morse Robb is the son of a former vice-president of Canadian National Railways, and brother of Havelock, Robb, the ornithologist.

JANUARY TO BE MILD, SAYS WEATHER PROPHET

Local residents can look forward to a lengthy period of milder weather and the present January thaw is to continue, according to Belleville's unofficial weather prophet, who consulted briefly with his meteorological crystal ball on Monday morning.

"If you have ever noticed the first three days of every month generally rule the weather for the thirty-day period. We've had warmer weather since the beginning of the year and I'd be almost ready to bet that it is going to continue warm for the remainder of the year. With the exception of course of a few days of cold weather, which can be expected. But we've had about all the real winter we are going to get for some time," added the oracle.

Miss Marie Leahy, 20-year-old business college student, of Toronto, was in hospital on Saturday recovering from head injuries she is unable to explain. She was found lying on the street.

Conscious, but shokely and dazed, the young woman told the hospital authorities she had been struck by a large black object without lights or she had fainted.

ELDORADO AND UNION W. M. S.

The January meeting of the Eldorado and Union W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Empey on Wednesday afternoon, January 8th. The lovely day tempted the ladies out with an attendance of twenty nine members and eleven visitors.

The meeting opened with the usual worship service. Call to worship and prayer by the president, the theme being "The Spirit of Racial Brotherhood." The hymn, "O Brother Man Fold to Thy Heart Thy Brother," was sung, followed by the scripture lesson read alternately from Acts 10.

Prayer was offered by Miss A. Holmes for the work of the Society. Mrs. F. A. Comerford offered prayer for peace and Mrs. Charles A. McCann for missions and the missionaries. The worship service closed with a hymn, "In Christ there is no East or West." Mrs. Albert Empey, group leader then took charge of the program. She opened with the hymn "Come Let Us Sing of His Wonderful Love." Mrs. F. A. Comerford read the devotional leaflet, The Spirit of Racial Brotherhood. Mrs. Empey then read the study book leaflets giving a summary of chapter III. Mrs. Bert McCarey sang a beautiful solo, "Living for Jesus," accompanied by Mrs. Empey. Miss A. Holmes then gave some answers to the questionnaire carried over from a previous meeting and a Christian Stewardship reading "A Farmer's Wife on Tithing."

With the singing of "Christian, Seek Not Yet Repose," and a benediction prayer by Rev. Mr. Fletcher, closed Mrs. Empey's program. Following this the usual yearly reports were read and adopted. A meeting of the program and finance committees was arranged. The meeting closed with prayer. Mrs. Empey served a very delicious lunch which was enjoyed by all.

ATTORNEY SLAIN BY IRATE LAWYER

A disgruntled lawyer shot and killed Attorney Christopher G. Kinney in Circuit Court at Chicago and then fired two shots at Judge John Prystalski, presiding. The judge ducked behind his bench and escaped.

The pistol-wielding attorney, identified as John W. Keogh, 59, ran amok when Judge Prystalski ruled against him in a case he had argued for 20 minutes with Attorney Kinney.

Kinney dropped beside the judge's bench at the first shot from Keogh's small bore weapon.

Keogh fired three more shots before one of the attorneys in the crowded courtroom knocked him out with a blow to the jaw.

One, aimed directly at Judge Prystalski, as he sat on the bench, hit the judge's heavy chair.

Another of the courtroom crowd struck Keogh's arm, and the third shot, again aimed at the judge, ground into the ceiling. A fourth shot went into the floor.

H. T. A. CHARGE LAID AFTER AN ACCIDENT

A charge of operating a vehicle on the highway after sundown without displaying the proper lights was recently laid against James Lake, of Rawdon, following an accident that occurred on Highway No. 14 in Rawdon Township about 6.30 p.m. on Saturday night. According to Provincial Constable William McBrien, who investigated, Mr. Lake was driving a team of horses hitched to a sleigh on the highway and had pulled across the road directly into the path of an oncoming automobile driven by E. E. Lucas, of Belleville. The motor car side-swiped the sleigh and crashed head-on into a deep ditch on the east side of the highway. Fortunately no person was injured during the accident. Provincial police and the driver of the automobile both alleged that no lights were displayed on the sleigh and charges of the same nature were laid against the driver of the horses.

Filling in Time until 7 o'clock

With the supper dishes cleared away, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Banks sit down each Wednesday evening to a rollicking game of checkers. Really they are just filling in time until their son John makes his weekly long distance call from a far-away city—a few minutes after 7 when Night Rates are in effect.

This weekly chat with John is the big event in their placid week. He never fails them, and his cheery chatter means more to them than they would care to say.

On both "Anyone" and "Person-to-Person" calls, Low Night rates apply after 7 p.m. and Low Week-end rates ALL DAY SUNDAY.

BELLEVILLE MARKET SATURDAY

The bottom dropped out of the egg market at the Belleville market last Saturday. It was readily apparent by a brief stroll through the market. On Saturday both grades of eggs were being sold at just five cents the dozen less than that asked the previous week, extras being sold at 30 cents the dozen, while pullets' eggs were sold freely from 23c to 25c.

"It's the Montreal market," explained one buyer. "Lately they've been dumping a lot of storage eggs on the open market, causing unsettled conditions. They'll probably be up next week."

"We know this much," explained a rural vendor. "Our hens haven't been laying any more than they have been for the past month or so, so they can't lay the drop to a more plentiful supply. We're selling them at a loss just now."

Marked by a striking absence of meat vendors on the outside, Saturday's market was below average in attendance on the part of both buyers and sellers. Prices in nearly all lines remained stationary, except eggs.

Poultry was offered in limited quantities with chickens and ducks chiefly in evidence, selling at the same price of 25 cents per pound for chickens and 27 and 30 cents for ducks. Only an occasional turkey was sold at a price averaging around $2.

Potatoes again were fairly plentiful, selling at from $1.25 to $1.35 the 75-pound bag. Apples will be scarce from now on, warned one dealer, although plentiful on Saturday at from $1.25 to $1.50 the bushel, according to variety. In the vegetable line no change was noted, with onions and leeks hardly vegetable, at from 35 to 40 cents the peck. Turnips, beets, carrots and the coarser varieties at 30 cents a peck. Cauliflower at from 5 to 15 cents a head and celery at 5 and 10 cents.

In the dairy market butter was still firm, no change being noted over prices asked for the past several weeks. On Saturday a flat bid of 30 cents the pound was asked, although in a few cases a two-pound roll could be had for 55 cents.

Recently a cow belonging to Mr. Thomas Gawley of Marmora, gave birth to a calf with two heads. The calf was red and white and was about normal size, but was born dead. The heads were almost together, the calf just having one neck divided sufficiently for the heads to grow on.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS

On Thursday evening of last week a large number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mumby, eighth concession of Rawdon, and presented their son Harold and his bride with a beautiful library table and floor lamp. An address was read expressing the esteem in which the young couple are held and wishing them much joy and happiness throughout their married life. The groom made a very suitable reply thanking all for their gifts and kindly expressions of appreciation and inviting them to call upon them in their new home.

They were given three hearty cheers and all sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Rev. Canon W. G. Swayne acted as master of ceremonies in his usual capable manner and the evening was spent very pleasantly in games, community singing, dancing, etc. Readings were given by Miss Ida Vance and Miss Edna Tanner. A beautiful lunch was served by the hostess.

The address was as follows:

Harold, Jan. 2, 1936.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mumby:

Having learned of your recent marriage we, your friends and neighbors, have met to spend a social hour with you, and to do honor to you before you settle in your new home.

You, Harold, have spent your boyhood days among us, and we have followed with pride your success in school and university. We couldn't let this momentous event in your life pass without showing in some slight way our appreciation for you as we have always found you a true friend, and we feel that because of your sterling qualities, you will make friends wherever you may go.

To you, Marion, we should say we hope soon to be better acquainted and we ask you to accept our hearty wishes for your future happiness in your new home.

As a slight token of our esteem and good will towards you both, we ask you to accept these gifts, also our best wishes as expressed in these lines:

We wish good health to stay with you,

And things to waken laughter,

And should some days be dark and grey,

We wish you sunshine after.

We wish enough of wealth for you To keep you free from worry,

And time to fold your hands and rest In times of care and hurry.

And then we wish each coming day To bless you, as it meets you,

And finally we ask of you Think often of these friends, who greet you.

Signed: Lorne Hagerman, John Courtney, Lindsay Tanner.

FRANCIS CASSIBO DIED FOLLOWING SELF-INFLICTED WOUND

Following an intensive investigation Provincial Police have reached the conclusion that Francis Cassibo, who was found dead in a potato bin at his home, five miles east of Tweed, recently, took his own life. The fact that he died from loss of blood owing to a jagged leg wound inflicted by a single barrel shot gun, and the finding of three empty shells on the floor of the room, indicate to the authorities that there was a possibility of foul play. The gun was found in the bin beside the unfortunate man. The police, however, later discovered where two other charges had penetrated the cellar floor.

Inspector Francis Gardner of the Provincial Police, announced that following a full report submitted by Sergeant Harry Thompson, it was quite apparent that the wound was self-inflicted. However, the inquest will be held in order to clear up all further details in connection with the unfortunate affair.

Cassibo was convicted only two weeks ago by Magistrate Lloyd, of manufacturing illicit liquor, and he is reported to have informed a friend that he would neither pay the fine imposed nor would he serve the three months' term in jail. He had been drinking heavily within the week prior to his death and apparently he became morose and chose suicide as the one way out of his troubles. A post-mortem examination by Drs. Stobie and Kennedy of Belleville, revealed no marks on the body aside from the gunshot wound.

An increase in the employment total for November of 40 over the previous month is reported by the Windsor Chamber of Commerce in its official monthly bulletin. The increase for November over the same month in 1934 was 4,004. Automotive employment was responsible for the gain over October, since in other branches of industry, a decrease is shown in employment figures.

EIGHT CHANGES IN PERSONNEL OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL

Few changes will be noted in the personnel of Hastings County Council when members of that body will convene for the first meeting of the year at Shire Hall, Belleville, on Tuesday, January 28th. Only eight changes have been made in the last year's council in widely separated townships of the county.

In Sidney, Samuel Nicholson as Deputy Reeve will replace George Bush, formerly Deputy, who this year has been elected Reeve of that township. A. L. Burke, former Reeve, has previously announced his retirement, leaving the field open for the contest.

Hubbel as the result of the defeat of Israel McKenzie, former Reeve and in Carleton Place, S. E. McWhirter will replace James D. Pennock, former Reeve. Limerick township for the first time in many years will be represented by a new Reeve, Dave Mawson, as the result of the defeat of the veteran Reeve, R. C. Brett, and in Bancroft Village, Dr. S. S. Lumb will fill the position of Reeve for the coming year. FORTUNE FOUND IN HOME WHERE AGED COUPLE STARVED

An aged couple, trembling with palsy, lay near death on Monday, too weak to explain how his sister-in-law died of starvation in their barren, icy home when they had a $30,000 fortune and plentiful food available.

The body of Mrs. Anna Cloutier, 60, was found in bed on Sunday night in an unheated room. A physician said death had occurred at least three days before.

Amedee Cloutier, 60, lay in an adjoining room comatose from cold and hunger. He was taken to a hospital where physicians said it was doubtful he would live.

In kitchen cupboards was sufficient bread, milk and meat to feed them for several days. Beside a kitchen stove was ample fuel.

Police believed the pair had become so feeble they were unable to keep the fire going or to feed themselves.

The shabby, three-storey house evidently had been unheated all winter but old bureau drawers concealed unusual wealth for the modest neighborhood.

Police found fourteen bankbooks, issued by New York and Canadian banks, showing deposits of more than $30,000, and no withdrawals. All except one, issued to Cloutier, were in his sister-in-law's name.

With them were about fifty pieces of jewelry, all old, but including pins, bracelets, gem-studded rings, and several watches in heavy gold cases.

Police roughly estimated the value of the jewelry at hundreds—possibly thousands—of dollars.

SIGHT RESTORED TO BLIND GIRL

Blind for more than a year, 18-year-old Christina Henderson, of Hazlett, Sask., is beginning to see and it's "just grand" for her.

Diabetes, from which she suffered brought on cataracts on both her eyes. These spread over the eye-ball until in August, 1934, she became completely blind.

One operation was performed last March and another in June. The cataracts began to disappear. Late in the summer Miss Henderson's condition improved until she could distinguish between day and night, and on Wednesday she was fitted with glasses and went to see a motion picture show.

"They're different altogether when you can see them," she said after watching the picture, the first she had seen in almost two years. She had attended shows, while blind and with the aid of a guide could follow in her mind what was taking place on the screen. But actually seeing the picture provided much more enjoyment, she said.

"I believe I could get along by myself anywhere now," she said.

MEETING OF SENIOR C. G. I. T.

The regular meeting of the Senior C. G. I. T. was held recently. The meeting was opened with a short singing-song. The C. G. I. T. Purpose was then repeated in unison, followed by the roll call. The roll call was answered with a New Year's resolution and it was decided that the roll call for the coming meeting would be answered by a favourite verse.

The minutes were read and approved, after which the treasurer's report was given followed by a short business period during which several items were discussed. Francis Cassidy then took part in the worship period by giving a reading entitled "Litany," followed by a prayer by Miss Velma Carswell.

Hymn No. 384 was sung and the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

HOPE IS FADING FOR HAUPTMANN

The last hope of Bruno Richard Hauptmann to make a personal appearance before the court of pardons faded last week when Governor Harold G. Hoffman's office announced the court would not meet at the state prison.

The Governor, through William S. Conklin, his press aide, said the court which was convening to consider Hauptmann's plea for clemency would meet as usual at the executive offices.

A meeting at state prison would have been without precedent but Governor Hoffman's delay in announcing where the court would sit had been taken by some as an indication he hoped for a last minute statement from the man convicted of the Lindbergh kidnap murder.

35 INMATES IN COUNTY JAIL

After a period of quietness extending over some weeks, population of Hastings County jail is again showing a decided increase in numbers, according to Gaol Governor G. H. French. At the present time the institution is housing a total of 35 inmates. Only one female prisoner is registered. Highest number previously had been 34 prisoners a record extending over some years.

VIOLENT STORM LASHES BRITAIN

On Wednesday the United Kingdom began to repair the damage caused by the second violent storm to strike the country within a week. A gale which reached a velocity of 100 miles an hour lashed the coasts of Great Britain and Ireland on Tuesday night taking a toll of at least eight lives and causing untold damage.

Battered by fierce seas, shipping was forced to seek shelter. A number of ships were in distress and at least one—the 200-ton cargo steamship Bradda—foundered. Five of the Bradda's crew were drowned when she sank off Formby Point in the Mersey. The sixth swam to shore.

A small vessel, believed to be French, flashed distress signals off Bolthead on the Devon coast and three lifeboats put out in the storm to seek her.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER FOR THE FARMER

Issued by the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ont.

Reed Canary Grass

The Division of Forage Plants has conducted experiments with reed canary grass for many years. These tests have shown that it is a valuable grass to grow on land which becomes flooded with water for a time each season. It does not thrive where stagnant water lies on the land throughout the summer but it grows well with free water close to the soil surface. Reed canary grass is most useful on land that is too wet for most other crops and especially on peaty and mucky soils. Once reed canary grass is established it will last for many years and may be cut for hay or pastured. It spreads by underground stems and forms a good sod, but, unlike quack grass, it is fairly easy to eradicate. There is no danger that it will give trouble by spreading to the cultivated upland fields.

Grains for the Breeding Ewe

In early winter, with hay supplying the bulky part of the ration, breeding ewes in good condition have very little need for grain. However, with mixed or grass hays, some protein-rich concentrate should be added. One-quarter to one-half a pound per day of mixture of two parts oats and one part bran gives very good results. Oats are relished by sheep. They strengthen the ewe, while bran furnishes the protein needed to balance the ration in addition to assisting the digestive organs by its laxative qualities. Other grains, such as barley, corn, wheat and peas, are fattening feeds and should not be used except in small quantities and for ewes that are in very poor condition. They should always be fed in combination with bran and oats to lighten the mixture.

Taking Stock

The farmer who takes stock now and plans for his farming operations during the coming crop season will be able to order his fertilizers, spraying material, insecticides, etc., in good time. He will also be able to eliminate unprofitable hicks, cows, and other animals, and otherwise cut the cost of production.

JUNGLE TRIP PLANNED TO STUDY BIRD LIFE

The organization by Mrs. Gladys Gordon Fry, ornithologist of New York City, of a party of bird students for a five-week trip to study bird life in British Guiana this month, the first student group of its kind to visit the wilds of that country under professional guidance, has been announced. The group will stop at 11 West Indies islands. The trip has the endorsement of the National Association of Audubon Societies.

British Guiana, the southern terminus of the Canadian National Steamship route to the mainland of South America, has been selected by Mrs. Fry not only because of the hosts of tropical birds to be seen there, but also because of its forests, jungles and beautiful flowers, which include many varieties of orchids. The party will include botanists as well as students of bird life.

Special interest will be taken in the island of Dominica, which has been called a "naturalists' paradise," and in Trinidad, where there are 16 species of humming birds to be observed.

The party will land at Georgetown in British Guiana and will make the trip up the Essequibo River to Katarbo, where William Beebe and his staff of ornithologists spent more than two years studying bird life. From Katarbo Mrs. Fry's party will proceed to the famous Kaieteur Falls, making part of the journey over the new Bartica-Potaro motor road through the heart of the virgin forest.

IN ARGENTINA THEY LIKE THEIR COFFEE STRONG

In Argentina they drink their coffee strong and so they don't need percolators. Servants, which are very cheap, do the washing and that rules out washing machines. But they do like their toast which is making a good demand for electric toasters, these coming principally from the United States. Sweden has a corner on the supply of vacuum cleaners, while in the matter of electric stoves, the use of which is on the increase, these come from the United States, Britain and Germany.

MARKET IS BOOMING

Wedding bells rang out returning prosperity in Winnipeg for 1935 when more couples took the matrimonial plunge than in any year since 1930. There were 2,590 marriages only 64 below the 1930 record.

CANADIAN SHOES POPULAR WITH WOMEN OF SCOTLAND

Women are supposed to be an unknown quantity, never following a long or certain well-defined groove like the masculine gender and, possibly, nowhere else is this shown as in the matter of clothes. Men adopt a certain style and fit within somewhat rigid limitations while women-kind blossom out in a variety of styles and hues and add a zest and spice to life which would be lacking otherwise, at least to the ordinary run of genus-homo, of Anglo-Saxon extraction. In the matter of shoes, for instance, male footwear runs in fairly well-defined channels but when it comes to the women there is infinite variety. In the case of Great Britain, British lasts are not the same as American or Canadian, Belgian fittings are again different while Spanish are in a class all by themselves. Women in the United Kingdom, particularly in Scotland, are evidencing a partiality to Canadian shoes at the expense of the American, and while the trade is not very extensive, at the present time, there are possibilities of considerable expansion. Several high-class retail stores in Scotland are now displaying Canadian-made shoes.

PLUM TYPE TOMATO PREFERRED IN BRITAIN

Years of supplying the British market by Italy and Spain with their variety of canned tomatoes has resulted in educating the public in the British Isles to the use of the plum type of tomato. That the market is a big one is evidenced by the fact that 500,000 cases are imported into the United Kingdom during a normal year. The plum type of tomato and that familiar to Canadians is quite distinct. Experiments have been made in growing the plum type of tomato in Canada with successful results which may lead to Canada acquiring a much larger share of the canned tomato trade of Great Britain. The great drawback to the ordinary, or corrugated, type of Canadian tomato is that when canned it becomes mashed or crushed, resulting in a much larger percentage of liquid than when the plum type is used. The use of a smaller Canadian tomato, it is considered, would result in a higher percentage of solid matter, particularly when hand picked. The greater portion of the demand for purees, juice, catsup and soup is already being supplied by Canada.

Taking your Dollar to Market

EVERY year your family, and every family of your acquaintance, spends about 70 per cent. of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilities and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

That part of spending is readily understood. But do you realize that every manufacturer and retailer of these necessities is planning how he can get your dollar?

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

The clever woman goes for help to the advertisements in her local paper. There she finds a directory of buying and selling. She learns about the offerings of merchants and business people. She compares values. She weighs quality and price. She takes this opportunity of judging and selecting almost everything she needs to feed, clothe, amuse, instruct and generally bring up her family.

Do you read the advertisements? You will find them willing and able to serve you in the business of purchase.

APSLEY AIR MINDED

George Stevens, the well known merchant at Apsley, has gone air-minded, having purchased an Avion aeroplane from Art Elmist of Keene. Stevens says that Bernard Allen of Peterboro, will pilot the plane, and he hopes to start a flying school at Peterboro. He states that he might obtain a commercial license and use the plane to transport tourists from the city to Apsley

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By Edson R. Waite)

D. Smith, publisher of the Fort William, Ont., Times-Journal, says:

"We see by the paper that unless the newspapers do something to help keep the radio in the public eye, the folks will just forget about it and the sales of receivers will fall off.

"It appears that after all the money that is spent in magazines, radio, bill boards, etc., it finally devolves on the old dependable horse, the newspaper, to pull the wagon of publicity out of the ditch.

"Probably it is because so many more people read newspapers than anything else that they have the pulling power, get the public thinking and really do things."

An editorial in the Brazilian American in part says:

"Under curiously reverse conditions the United States is reducing cotton acreage and diversifying crops while Brazil diversifies production by turning old coffee plantations into cotton fields. Curtailment of the American output and consequent higher prices have encouraged expansion of cotton growing in many of the countries listed as cotton producers, but no nation has been more prompt and energetic in taking advantage of present conditions than Brazil.

"The Brazilian Department of Agriculture, which placed the 1933 crop at slightly less than 150,000,000 kilos, estimated the 1934 output at nearly 272,000,000 kilos. Allowing less than 50,000,000 kilos for domestic consumption, there remain 222,000,000 kilos or about 1,000,000 bales for export.

"Under the distinctly favorable conditions Brazil sees the possibility of continued expansion for cotton. Curtailment and high prices in the United States may result in important transfers of world purchases to other nations which are increasing output as the American crop is reduced."

TOURISTS TO SHIP CARS AT LOW COST BY RAIL

With a view to affording visitors to United States winter resorts a greater convenience in shipping their private automobiles by rail, the Canadian railways are preparing a plan whereby cars may be shipped to points across the border direct from any point in the Dominion at a cost infinitely more economical than making the trip by motor car. In brief, the only charges to the car owner in making the shipment will be the obtaining of a bond, at a cost of $10., and the purchase of a single fare ticket for the car to the point of destination. Under the purchase of the bond system the car may be kept in the United States for six months and not the usual 90-day period, which has been in effect.

In outlining the details of the new system of shipping motor cars under bond by the railways, H. C. Bourlier, general passenger agent of the Canadian National Railways, stated that this additional convenience to the motorist will eliminate all red-tape which previously annoyed travellers at the border. "It makes no difference whether the car be valued at $10,000, or $250," he said, "the $10.-bond will effectively cover the transaction."

Mr. Bourlier pointed out that under the present arrangement the motorist who desired to travel by rail was forced to motor to the nearest United States point of entry, file the necessary papers permitting the car to enter, and then return home to meet his family and take the train. "Fortunately," Mr. Bourlier continued, "under the new arrangement this procedure has been obviated. The railways will now simply make arrangements with the car owner to obtain a $10.-bond from a surety company to cover the Custom's requirements which we will deposit with the nearest United States Customs Officer, and the only other additional expense will be the owner purchasing a single-fare ticket for his car to destination."

While the idea of transporting motor cars across the international border at the rate of a single-fare ticket is a new one, the system has been in effect locally in both Canada and the United States for some time and has been largely used by motor car owners, who prefer rail travel to the arduous driving for long distances. The extension of the time limit for use of the car from 90 days to six months will be of great convenience to winter resort visitors.

AFRICA IN THE MAKING

Africa, so vast within its borders are 43 nations and 591 distinct languages! Africa, primitive and sinister in its ignorance and superstition into which the light of Christian truth is penetrating with marvellous effect, is being graphically unfolded before large audiences in Canada by Rev. Denzil G. Ridout, F.R.C.S., assistant secretary of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund and editor of the United Church Record.

Mr. Ridout recently returned from four months of touring vast hinterlands of the African continent. He covered 30,000 miles and took almost 2,000 photographs from which his constructive illustrated lecture has been prepared. Beautiful pictures in natural colours tell a wonderful story of the part being played by the missionaries in the making of new Africa.

CANADA WILL EXHIBIT IN SOUTH AFRICA

There is a strong partiality towards Empire goods in South Africa and it is anticipated the forthcoming Empire Exhibition in Johannesburg, on September 15, 1936 to January 15, 1937, will considerably enhance this. Canada will be represented officially and it is expected there will be a considerable display of Canadian manufacturers. Display space is being taken up rapidly; by the middle of September about 40 per cent of the total space of 187,000 square feet devoted to industrial exhibits had been leased and it has been found necessary to extend the area. A feature of the Exhibition will be an artificial ice skating rink, the only one in the whole of Africa.

RECORDER ADVISES WORK IN WOODPILE

Next time Jean Lamorsau's terrible temper gets the better of him and he feels an irrepressible tendency to break the house furniture he will make a dash for the wood shed, if he follows the advice of Recorder Plante of Montreal. His wife appeared recently and told the court that her husband was breaking up their furniture and home.

"Whenever he gets into one of these tempers," she said, "he grabs the chairs and nurls them around. In fact every bit of furniture we have been thrown about at different times."

LONE ROBIN REFUSES TO MOVE TO SOUTH

There is a lone robin in Moncton, N. B., which has refused to leave the confines of the city to join his mates who have migrated to the south for the winter. Citizens in that centre are in doubt as to whether to look upon him as an harbinger of an early spring or as a pioneer who has decided to prove that Canadian winters are not as severe after all and so induce his fellow-robins next season to stay and enjoy the winter sports.

BRITISH LINERS FOR TROOPSHIPS

Great Britain turned to reinforcement of its African military position pressing several liners into Mediterranean transport service, it became known on Monday amid renewed discussion of the possibility of oil sanctions against Italy.

Three liners including the Scythia, it was learned already, have been converted into army transports. Two more may be requisitioned soon to carry troops to British posts near scenes of European tension and the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Captain David W. Bone, former Commodore of the Anchor Line, has entered the transport service. He was aboard the liner Cameronia arriving at Southampton on Monday from a voyage with troops to Gibraltar.

The Scythia, 17,981-ton vessel of the Cunard-White Star Line, on the Atlantic, is sailing from England today with troops and guns for the Mediterranean.

Authoritative sources said its destination probably would be Alexandria, Egypt, just east of Italy's North African possession of Libya and northwest of the Ethiopian war zone.

The 16,792-ton California of the Anchor Line and the 13,241-ton Vardake of the Lamport and Holt Line, also have been pressed into Mediterranean transport service. The 19,395-ton Laconia and the 19,597-ton Samaria, both Cunarders, are expected to be called.

GAGGED BABY FOUND ALIVE IN BUSHES

An eight-month-old baby boy, found hidden in the shrubbery outside his bedroom window, gagged with a towel, slept soundly on Monday, none the worse for his adventure while police of Boston sought those who took him from his crib. David Lebow was found in a clump of bushes almost beneath his open first floor window.

Police detective Dennis Haggerty said it looked as though someone might have been interrupted in a kidnapping attempt.

RAMSAY MACDONALD NOMINATED FOR SEAT IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Former Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and two other candidates were officially nominated on Friday for the vacant Scottish Universities seat in the House of Commons.

MacDonald, now Lord President of the Council in the National Government, will be opposed by Prof. Dewar Gibbs, Scottish Nationalist, and D. Cleghorn Thomson Labor. Result of the voting will be declared on February 3rd.

The vacancy resulted from the death of A. Noel Skelton, Conservative, a few days after the general election of November 14th. Former Prime Minister MacDonald lost his seat at Seaham in the general election.

NOT A MOTOR HORN

The boy from the city was visiting his grandmother in the country. The hired man was showing him around the place. In the back lot a cow was grazing and the boy's curiosity became greatly excited.

"And what are those things on her head?"

"Horns," said the hired man.

As they started away, the cow mooed loud and long. The little city boy was astounded, and, looking back with feverish interest, demanded, "Which horn did she blow?"

30-DAY REPRIEVE

STAYS EXECUTION

OF HAUPTMANN

Bruno Hauptmann's 30-day reprieve spurred a defence search on Friday for new evidence and raised the possibility Governor Harold G. Hoffman might question Dr. John F. Condon about his oft-told story of the Lindbergh ransom negotiations.

The Governor, who dramatically stayed Hauptmann's execution 29 hours before the scheduled time, has expressed a desire to interrogate "Judy" on purported discrepancies between his court testimony and a series of articles on the crime.

TRUCK DRIVERS

ARE WARNED

Several complaints have been received regarding "Road Hog" truck drivers in this district who will not give other motorists room to pass on the road. The Review has been informed by Provincial Police Kidd that in the future when complaints are received these offenders will be prosecuted.

Failing to hear a motorist sound his horn is no excuse and will not let the driver off, as all vehicles are required to carry rear-view mirrors which will enable them to see what is behind.

TOO LATE FOR

1935 MARKERS

Although the last days of grace for 1935 automobile markers have expired, a few local motorists are taking a chance and using the old licenses. The Review has been informed that the last warnings have been given and prosecutions will now follow.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. PETER'S CHURCH

The annual congregational meeting of St. Peter's Presbyterian church was held in the basement of the church on Wednesday evening, January 15th. At seven o'clock a splendid supper was served by the ladies to about one hundred members of the congregation. Rev. W. A. Hunter had charge and opened the program with a verse of the hymn "Work for the Night is Coming." Mrs. Alexander accompanying. Mr. K. Johnston rendered two lovely violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. West at the piano. The minutes of the 1934 annual meeting were read by Mr. W. J. Hill. Mr. George Wright gave the report of the session and added a number of resolutions for the increase of the spiritual life of the members. These suggestions were voted on separately.

Attention was drawn to the fact that in September 1936, the 100th anniversary of the foundation of Presbyterianism in this district was to be observed. A splendid report on Sunday School work was given by Mr. Will Hill. A report on the Young Women's Auxiliary was presented by Miss Vera McGhee; that of the C.G. I.T. by Miss Loreen Connor; the Women's Missionary Society by the secretary, Miss Mary Mackintosh, and by the treasurer, Mrs. Fred Curry.

A rousing song was well sung by Mr. A. C. Anderson and was followed by the Mission Band report by Miss Alice Armstrong. A balance of $158.52 in the treasury of the Ladies' Aid was disclosed in the report given by Mrs. F. Sharpe. Mr. Campbell Hunter gave an outline of the work accomplished by the Young Worshipers' Association.

The finances of the church are in better condition than in some years and a committee was appointed with regard to clearing up a small deficit that now remains.

Another violin selection was given by Mr. Johnston. Votes of thanks were extended to the various members for their excellent reports. The following were elected officers for 1936:

Treasurer—George West.
Auditors—Alex Cochran and T. M. Nicol.

Trustees—Messrs. John Mackenzie, Robert Allen, T. M. Nicol.

Managers—Dr. S. Eagleson, Will J. Hill and C. B. Foote.

PICTURES SHOWN OF AFRICAN LIFE

Pictures taken on the African trails by Rev. Denzil G. Ridout, indicating the progress of missions of the United Church, and the contact with the African natives were shown at Trinity United church on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Young People's Association. Mr. Ridout took 1941 views on his four months' trip and some of these were striking, as they exposed certain superstitions of the natives. Due place was given Dr. David Livingstone, who opened up the dark continent. Mr. Ridout was surprised at the welcome he received in this land.

This continent is larger than Canada, Europe, China and India together. He spoke of the missionary, Dr. Strangways, as one of the greatest figures in the medical missions. He is helped by native workers as nurses. Mr. Ridout saw 300 persons taking communion one morning. The young Africans take a deep interest in missions. Their men are the finest singers in the world. Truly, said Dr. Ridout, one can look upon the Christ of Galilee as walking the African trails with his representatives, the mission workers.

The lecture was much enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance. While in Madoc Mr. Ridout was the guest of his sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Eagleson.

Early in the evening word was received of the death of His Majesty the King. A short memorial service was held with silent prayer, followed by prayer by the pastor, Rev. I. E. Kennedy.

Miss Kathleen Lahey spent the week-end in Madoc.

BRITISH EMPIRE MOURNS THE KING

Great Britain and the vast British Empire today are mourning the loss of King George V, beloved 70-year-old monarch, who died in the quiet of his Norfolk country estate on Monday at 11:55 p.m. (6:55 p.m. E.S.T.). His Majesty succumbed from complications arising from a severe cold, bronchial catarrh and a heart weakness.

His eldest son, the Prince of Wales, automatically succeeded to the throne with the formal proclamation delayed until he could receive the oath of allegiance from the Privy Council at London.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday, January 28th, in St. George's Chapel of Windsor Castle.

The body will lie in state in Westminster Hall from Thursday until the time of the funeral.

At the present time it is in Sandringham, the place of death.

A full state procession will accompany the late king's body from Westminster Hall to Paddington Station, from where the body will be taken to Windsor.

The body of King George V, after being transferred from Sandringham House to the village church on Tuesday, will be placed Thursday on a gun carriage and taken to a royal special train for London, where it will lie in state at Westminster Hall.

When the body of the King is removed to the village chapel after dusk on Tuesday night the new king and other members of the Royal family will follow the coffin afoot from Sandringham House to Wolferton Station, two and one-half miles away.

A special train will leave there for London at noon on Thursday.

It is possible the widowed Queen Mother Mary may walk part of the way.

The late King's own company of the Fifth Territorial Battalion of the Royal Norfolk Regiment will serve as a guard of honor. A group of Grenadier Guards will act as pall bearers.

Beyond these units, there will be no military ceremony.

The body of King George V was started on Tuesday night on the slow journey which during the next few days, will permit thousands of his former subjects to view the face of the dead sovereign for the last time.

The body was removed from Sandringham House, where the king died, at 11:55 p.m. Tuesday, to the little parish church.

The new sovereign, already had gone by airplane to London to take up the sceptre relinquished by his father.

The body of King George, in a coffin, was taken on a hand tier escorted by a detachment of Grenadier Guards through sleet and rain.

MADOC AND TWEED IN OVERTIME TIE

Tweed and Madoc met at the local Arena for the first time this season on Monday night and provided the fans with a real hockey game which resulted in a 3-2 tie. For over two and a half periods Madoc had the best of the play and were leading 3-1 with seven minutes left to play, when Tweed put four men on the attack, which caught the Madoc team asleep and two easy counters were registered to tie the count.

In the overtime both teams were kept scoreless and the game ended a tie.

Madoc opened the scoring in the first period when Kellar scored from a pass from the corner. Tweed tied the count but Madoc again took the lead before the period ended, when Whytock scored on a lone effort. In the second period Whytock again scored on a pass from Aksey. In the third period the locals were held scoreless while Tweed scored twice.

EXCELLENT CONCERT AT HIGH SCHOOL

On Tuesday evening an excellent concert was provided to those who braved the stormy night to attend, by Miss Pearl Newton, elocutionist, of Toronto, assisted by local talent. Mr. Charles Anderson, principal of the High School, introduced the guest artist. The good acoustic properties of the school auditorium aided materially in the success of the program. Miss Newton's renditions were unsurpassed for ability and excellent in quality and it was unfortunate that other interests interfered with the attendance. The worth whiteness of her efforts are varied and multiple as her expression and wonderful, her choice of selections excellent and the pathos and feeling of her delivery touched the hearts of her listeners. Aided by local talent, the following comprised the program:

HERE AND THERE

It's going to be a long severe winter or a short mild one. All depends on the prophet you prefer.

Winter motoring has its compensation. Hitchhikers are in danger of having their thumbs frozen.

If a woman's hat sets at that angle it is chic, if a man's hat sets that way, it is liquor.

A manufacturer in England who was unable to pay his taxes, took 1500 of his bricks and left them with the tax collector as a payment on account. What would the tax collector here do, say, or think, if every business place in Madoc left a load of its products on his official door step?

Mark Twain and Will Rogers were both apostles of that clean and wholesome humor which left nary a sting or a bad taste, and folks loved them rather than feared them. Both left the world a better place than they found it and the names of both are preserved in the hearts of the people unmarred by a single stain.

Here is a topic for a debate as suggested by a correspondent: "If you had your choice, would you rather be the eldest or the youngest son or daughter of a considerable family?" There are a great many points of view to the question and a discussion might evoke sympathy with the conditions that inevitably confront the eldest as well as the youngest.

One thing that is needed nowadays is more people who will do the best they can with what they have. This applies to their talents as well as their possessions. Many folk do not begin to live up to their possibilities because their special talent is not equal to that of their neighbor. And so they drift helplessly through the years when their lives might have experiences of thrill and accomplishment. This thought even applies to giving. Any church official knows that there are scores of folk who, because they cannot give five dollars like their neighbor, withhold the one dollar that they might donate and give nothing.

CHANCE FOR REVENUE

Now Great Britain is entering the market for Canadian hockey players. Pretty soon these should be among the Dominion's most valuable exports. Probably the government will be able to make a good thing out of the foreign demand by levying a small export tax on each departing player.

BLINDING LIGHTS

Blinded by the lights of an approaching car—is often the start of an accident story. The rest of the article deals with injuries and occasionally death. And too often the tragedy can be laid on the doorstep of the driver who didn't think it worth while to dim his lights.

Ordinary courtesy of the road demands that each motorist be considerate to his fellow drivers. It takes little effort to touch the dimming switch of any car with hand or foot and the simple action may prevent injury or death for passengers in the approaching car.

CANADA'S EARLY HISTORY TRACED IN A GOLF CLUB

The history of Canada is not generally to be traced in clubhouses, but the main building of the Lower Fort Garry Golf Club, on the Red River, some sixteen miles from Winnipeg, furnishes an exception to this rule. Slightly more than a hundred years ago it served as a residence for Governor Simpson "of Rupert's Land and The Company of Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay," within the fort which was built by his orders in 1831.

In this building, which has been restored, the rooms are heated by stoves shipped into the West by the Hudson's Bay Company. The main hall is lighted by the original oil lamp that glimmered from the masthead of the S. S. Beaver during her long voyage from England to Fort Vancouver, round the Horn, in 1835-36. Of course, the lantern has been electrified, and twelve copies of it brighten the front porch.

HOW THE LIBRARY HELPS YOUR TOWN

1. Completes its educational equipment, carrying on and giving permanent value to the work of the schools.
2. Gives the children of all classes a chance to know and love the best in literature. Without a public library such a chance is limited to the very few.
3. Minimizes the sale and reading of vicious literature in the community, thus promoting mental and moral health.
4. Effects a saving in money to every reader in the community. Through the library every reader in the town can secure at a given cost from 100 to 1,000 times the material for reading or study that he could secure by acting individually.
5. Adds to the material value of property.
6. Appealing to all classes, sects and degrees of intelligence, it is a strong unifying factor in the life of a town.

YOU CAN'T HELP BEING HAPPY, IF

Nothing new has been said about the right way to be happy for at least nineteen hundred years. But some ideas have been set in type which deserve time, ink and paper to again bring to public attention.

Marcus Antonius, grandfather of Mark Antony, was a Roman lawyer and orator. As an orator he was said to be the equal of the great speakers of Greece. He wrote the following recipe for happiness:

"If thou worked at that which is before thee, following right reason, seriously, vigorously, calmly, without allowing any thing else to distract thee, but keeping thy divine part pure as if thou shouldst be bound to give it back immediately,—if thou holdest to this, expecting nothing, fearing nothing, but satisfied with thy present activity according to nature, and with heroic truth in every word and sound which thou utterest, thou wilt live happy. And there is no man who is able to prevent this."

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER

The local newspaper is the logical place for the announcement of all the merchants in the town in which it is published. The plea is often put up, when the merchant is approached on the subject, that the people all know him and the quality of the goods he dispenses and that therefore it is not necessary for him to advertise. That is a short-sighted policy, and one that is easily refuted. Do the people really know what new lines he is putting in or when the first arrival of seasonable goods is expected? Do they know when he has secured a line of bargains which he is prepared to pass on to the public at a reduction in price? Do they know what novelties he has placed on his shelves, or what shipment has arrived of the goods they had been looking for? These and many other questions come up whenever the merchant says he does not care to advertise.

The town paper that is ably supported by the merchants reflects the quality of the town's business to a greater degree than is usually supposed. A prosperous town reflects prosperity in the local paper, but when the merchants are lax advertisers the reverse is the case. When the merchants advertise business prospers, because the public invariably responds to an appeal put before them in a proper manner.

SALMON TROPHY WON BY U. S. SPORTSMEN

To a United States sportsman, Allen Everett of Cranford, N. J., goes the New Brunswick Guides salmon trophy for the largest Atlantic silver salmon caught during the season of 1935 in waters of the province. The prize fish was taken on the South-west Miramichi River, on September 24th, and its weight when taken from the water was 20 pounds, length 39 inches, girth 20 inches. Guide Raymond Currie, of Fredericton, N. B., was with Mr. Everett when he caught the prize-winning salmon. Presentation of the trophy will take place in New York City during the National Sportsmen's Show, to be held in Grand Central Palace week of February 29th to March 7th, in which the province of New Brunswick will be represented by an exhibit. The present holder of the New Brunswick Atlantic salmon trophy is one of the younger generation of United States sportsmen, Charles D. Harrison, of Green Farms, Conn., who is 18 years of age.

PRICE OF COPRA SHOWS INCREASE

The price of copra, which was one of the main cargoes of an earlier day, has gone up and this is helping to bring about a measure of prosperity to those countries which produce it. This is the case of the Dutch East Indies, which has registered the first advance since the depression. Copra was much used for soap making but modern-day chemists have brought about a great change in the production of vegetable oils which has had the effect of greatly curtailing the demand for copra. The rise in the price of rice has increased the cost of living for the natives in contradistinction to Europe, where the cost of living declined from an index figure of 90 in September, 1934, to 86 a year later. Latest reports, however, indicate a sharp rise in Europe.

LATEST FASHIONS VOGUE IN WEST INDIES

The large influx of Canadian and American tourists into the British West Indies and British Guiana has brought about a demand for smartly cut frocks on the part of the women of these Empire colonies. More attractive hats are also being displayed in the leading department stores. The average shopper for ladies' apparel is now demanding articles that are smart in appearance. Canadian hats and dresses have a particular appeal and there is every prospect of the demand increasing. The most popular selling lines are smart house dresses and for sports and afternoon wear. Straw hats are worn throughout the year and large quantities are imported from Great Britain. The principal demand in the more expensive hats is for crepe, with a smaller demand for hats made of linen and ribbon.

CUBA OFFERS MARKET FOR CANADIAN LARD

In Cuba fried foods are used considerably and there is consequently quite a market for lard. Heretofore the United States has been the chief source of supply but with the shortage which is looming up in that country, there are possibilities for other exporters. The hog supply of the United States for the balance of 1935 and probably throughout 1936 has been estimated as sufficient only for the home market and not over 70 per cent of the usual foreign demand. Dealers in Cuba estimate 2,500,000 kilograms of lard will have to be imported during the next year from other sources. Already a trial shipment has been made from Canada while Argentina is also after the market.

ARGENTINE GRAIN ACREAGE SHOWS DECREASE

Latest estimate for the Argentine grain crop is, wheat 14,208,250 acres; linseed, 6,572,860 acres; oats, 2,962,845 acres; barley, 1,939,735 acres; rye, 1,749,468 acres. This represents a reduction in area as compared with 1934. Wheat, 18.9 linseed, 16.3 oats, 3.7 barley, 18 rye. Compared with the last ten-year average the figures are, wheat, a decrease of 28.7 per cent; linseed, decrease of 10 per cent; oats, decrease of 15.8 per cent; barley, increase of 37.9 per cent; rye, increase 37.4 per cent.

C. N. R. EARNINGS CONTINUE UPWARD

The gross revenues of the all-inclusive Canadian National Railways System for the week ending January 7, 1936, were $2,584,318.00, as compared with $2,436,587.00, for the corresponding period of 1935, an increase of $147,731.00.

GOLD AREA IN PETERBORO COUNTY

Nelson H. Handen, hard rock miner, who has prospecting Canada from Winnipeg to Labrador, believes that gold in previous quantities will be discovered in Peterboro County within two years. The Swedish miner, who came to Canada in 1930, and is now working at Lakefield, states that he is convinced from a study of the rock formations, less than 15 miles from Lakefield, that gold and other valuable minerals are there.

He added that during the autumn months he had noticed the hard brittle basalt rock formations in the county which has showed reliable "contacts," better in fact than any he had ever seen before and as a result of this he was certain that gold would be located but that in all probability it would be deep as the contacts indicated that the formation went down at an angle of ninety degrees. He also believes that several settlers who have sunk small shafts have made valuable finds but that they have kept them quiet because they were afraid of the big interests. His trips across country have revealed positive signs of silver bearing formations, cobalt and magnetized iron and some hope of copper sulphide.

"There are all kinds of valuable minerals right here under the people's noses but because they are so close the citizens believe that they would have been discovered long ago. The truth of the matter is that real prospectors have not inspected this section," the veteran miner explained and enthusiastically added that if gold is not discovered within a year then he has never seen any.—Havelock Standard.

SWIFT DEATH TAKES SEVENTEEN

Appalled by the worst disaster of North American plane travel, volunteers struggled through knee-deep mud and water on Wednesday to recover the mangled bodies of seventeen persons killed by the crash of the luxurious air liner "Southerner" in an Arkansas swamp.

Twelve men, four women, one child make up the fourteen passengers and the crew of three, who rode the ill-fated ship on Memphis-Los Angeles flight.

Remnants of eight of the bodies were brought out of a dense swamp on Wednesday.

They were brought out on a flatbed farm wagon, drawn by two mules which had difficulty in making the trip out of the marsh. The bodies were taken to a Memphis funeral home where it was hoped definite identifications could be made.

A Department of Commerce official, viewing the splintered wreckage, said the cause of the accident probably never would be known.

Plane and bodies were torn to bits as the liner crashed through a dense growth of trees, scattering plane parts and the victims over an area 400 yards long and about 75 yards wide. The wreckage came to rest in a water-filled bog.

GAS IN BELGIUM ALL PRODUCED FROM COAL

Belgium produces all of her gas requirements from coal, there being no natural gas deposits. Only 432 out of 2,670 municipalities, or communes, have a gas service. The cost being comparatively low, gas is much used for cooking. The greater part of the gas is supplied by domestic manufacturers and by Germany.

Germany is giving severe competition to the Belgian manufacturer, offering cement, stocks, long credit terms, etc., in addition to producing a high-grade range. The type of burner is different from Canadian makes of gas stoves, being considerably smaller, with the Continental type. Very few open-flame type burners are in use. Stoves are mostly finished in white or cream with chromium-plated frames and fittings and are equipped with drop-down oven doors, insulated ovens, thermostats, perfect anti-back-firing burners; there is an absence of plate racks.

GERMANY DRAWS ON CANADA FOR PULP

Germany's position as one of the world's greatest producers of artificial silk, has compelled her to draw on outside countries for raw material. Her forest resources are strictly limited but are well conserved so that she has been able to export considerable quantities of chemical wood-pulp. Germany, however, is unable to produce sufficient quantities of the special types of pulp required for artificial silk and draws on supplies from Scandinavian and other adjacent countries as well as Canada.

Short Course at Kingston—One of the oldest courses in instruction in practical dairying in Canada opened for its fortieth session January 2nd at Kingston. The Eastern Dairy School now under the control of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and in charge of Prof. A. Gibson, superintendent, was first established by Queen's University in 1896 as an agricultural and dairy school, but of late years it has specialized only in the latter branch of agriculture. Serving the rich dairy districts of Central and Eastern Ontario the Eastern Dairy School offers three months' general course in cheese and butter making, with a special Cheesemaker's Short Course from February 11th to 14th, and the dairy instructors' course follows the regular course, from March 21st to 24th.

Registered Cockerels—Poultry breeders wishing to improve egg production and egg size, thus lower the cost of production and increase the revenue from the poultry flock, should secure registered males to mate with their breeding females for the coming breeding season. Being bred from parents which impart the capacity for high egg production and large ones. Registered cockerels possess the breeding necessary to increase the egg production of any flock and to ensure egg size well. Since these cockerels are bred from mature females and are inspected by government inspectors after they are six months old, the buyer can rest assured that he is getting birds possessing good constitutions and abundant vigour. Registered cockerels may be secured from poultry breeders in every province in Canada.

Warning from England—Canadian cattle raisers, at least such as might hope to export animals to the United Kingdom have recently been warned regarding the shipment of stock with any mutilations in the ears. According to a decision of the committee which administers the cattle fund from which payment of subsidies on home-fed beef cattle is made no animal with a punch hole of any shape in any position of the ear of half an inch or more across, or any snip or cut of the edge of the ear extending half an inch or more into the ear, will be eligible for the subsidy when sold for beef.

It has been occasionally noted that some beef cattle which have suffered from frost-bite in the ear are left with deformed ears as a result. It will be inadvisable to prepare these for export to the Old Country. They can be shipped, but would probably bring a much lower price because they would not qualify for the subsidy. This news has been transmitted to the office of the Canadian Commissioner for Canada.

Should not be allowed to become too fat or too thin. If they are very thin after the pigs are weaned, they are fed well until a normal weight is reached. If plenty of green feed is available, about four pounds of mixed grain per sow per day is usually sufficient to keep her in good condition. When nursing a litter, the sow is fed all she will clean up.

This amount will vary from 6 to 12 pounds daily for different sows. The grain mixtures for the sows varies at times, owing to the nature of the feed on hand. A satisfactory mixture consists of equal parts of ground oats, ground barley and middlings. The barley may be omitted for sows in good condition and unless suitable mineral and protein supplements are provided, it should be omitted during the last 8 per cent of the ration.

Month before farrowing. The nursing sow should receive at least two lbs. of skim-milk per pound of grain or fish-meal or tankage at the rate of about two pounds per day. Clover hay is supplied in racks. If potatoes are fed to brood sows, they should be fed only sparingly during pregnancy. At this time it is advisable to feed fish meal at the rate of about 3 per cent of the ration, if no skim-milk is available. Bone char and salt are each fed at the rate of one per cent of the ration at all times.

Middlesex County, with five foal clubs, showing 81 colts in club work during 1935 leads Ontario. The next highest county is Bruce, which has three foal clubs and a showing of 30 colts.

Iderton Foal Club with a showing of 25 colts has the largest individual showing in the province. The five foal clubs in Middlesex are at Melbourne, Iderton, Parkhill, Glenora and Thornedale.

Eastern, Central and Northern Ontario: The movement of seed from growers to the trade was decidedly slow during December. Buyers are cautious owing to uncertainty of the market. There are still available in these parts of Ontario some 540,000 pounds of red clover, 420,000 pounds of alfalfa, 90,000 pounds of alsike, 300,000 pounds of sweet clover, 3,000,000 pounds of timothy and 500,000 pounds of mixed seeds.

Prices offered growers range as follows: for red clover in the Kingston-Oshawa district, 8 to 10c per pound for country run seed; in northern Ontario, 9c for No. 1; in the St. Lawrence counties, 11 to 12c; in the lower Ottawa Valley, 13c. Alfalfa in the Kingston-Oshawa district, 10 to 12c (country run). For alsike in the Belleville, Peterboro' and Lindsay districts, 11 to 12c for country run seed; northern Ontario, 10 to 11c for No. 1 sweet clover; in the Kingston-Oshawa district, 11c for country run seed; in the St. Lawrence counties, 2 to 3c for No. 1. For timothy in the Kingston-Oshawa district, 2 to 3c for country run seed; in northern Ontario, 2 to 3c for No. 1; in the St. Lawrence counties, 3 to 3 3/4c for No. 1, and in the lower Ottawa Valley, 3 to 4c for No. 1.

South-Western Ontario: A comparatively large quantity of seed has already moved from growers to the trade, although there are still available some 750,000 lbs. of red clover, 125,000 pounds of alfalfa, 175,000 of alsike, 550,000 of sweet clover, 4,250,000 of timothy and 42,000 of Canadian blue grass. The demand continues good for alsike, fair for red clover, alfalfa and Canadian blue grass and poor for sweet clover and timothy.

Present prices paid growers by the trade range as follows for No. 1 grade, per pound: red clover 10 to 12c; alfalfa 14 to 16c; alsike 12 to 15c; sweet clover 3 to 4 1/2c; timothy 2 to 3 1/2c; and Canadian blue grass 3 1/2 to 4c (country run).

BRITISH CURERS MAKING BACON FROM FROZEN PORK

In addition to supplying the British Isles with frozen mutton, Australia and New Zealand are building up a considerable trade in frozen pork from which British curers are making Wiltshire sides of bacon. New Zealand supplied 432,387 cwt. for the first ten months of 1935; Australia 132,629 cwt. Other countries supplying are Argentina 153,803 cwt., the United States 70,000 cwt., other Empire countries 5,880 cwt., other foreign countries 5,191 cwt. New Zealand and Australia show substantial increases as compared with the same period of 1934, while other sources of supply register decreases.

At the Experimental Station, Fredrickton, N. B., the brood sows are housed in portable cabins all year except for a period from a week or two days before farrowing until the pigs are weaned. A three years rotation of rape, oats seeded, and clover carried on in the hog paddocks and this provides a continuous supply of green feed throughout the summer. The object in feeding is to keep the sows in a thrifty condition. They

MRS. SAMUEL ELLIOTT

After an illness of some months' duration, Mrs. Samuel Elliott passed away early Tuesday morning at the residence of her son, Mr. Lincoln Elliott, a short distance west of Tweed. To many friends throughout the district her death has brought deep feelings of regret as by her friendly disposition and owing to the many fine traits of character which she possessed she was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. She was a member of the United Church and when health permitted she was always willing to give her support to church and charitable work.

The late Mrs. Elliott's maiden name was Miss Sarah Sherry, her parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Sherry. She was born at Thomasburg 67 years ago. Since her marriage she had resided in the Tweed district. Surviving to mourn her passing are one daughter, Mrs. Harry Colter, Cayuga, Ont.; two sons, Dr. Scott Elliott of Cleveland, and Mr. Lincoln Elliott of Tweed; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Craig of Tweed, and Mrs. J. H. Farney, of Belleville; three brothers, Mr. Wilbur Sherry, Belleville; Mr. George Sherry, Thomasburg, and Mr. Edward Sherry, Belleville.

FIND REMAINS OF MAN AT MARLBANK

On Tuesday of last week, Fred Busby of Marlbank, came upon the remains of a body in a swamp near his home. He was cutting fence rails at the time.

It is believed this solves the mystery of the disappearance of Henry Smith, 52-year-old Napanee laborer, on April 6, 1932, from that vicinity. Busby told the police he had found a manilla rope hanging from a cedar tree which seemed unusual, so he dug in the snow beneath it and uncovered the skull some distance from the rest of the body.

It was the opinion of Coroner F. G. Wallbridge of Belleville, that the person in question had tied a rope to the tree, placed the noose around his neck, and leaped to his death. A four-foot stump near the cedar tree could have been used for a natural scaffold.

It was judged the body had been there a great number of months and the police are investigating. Mrs. Minnie Smith was asked to identify a safety razor and a belt buckle found by the authorities after the remains had been removed to Napanee. These were identified by Mrs. Smith on Thursday.

CANADA INCREASES SHARE OF SOUTH AFRICAN IMPORTS

The prosperous condition of the Union of South Africa is reflected in the large increase in value of imports registered. Canada moved up from sixth to fourth place, Great Britain heading the list, followed by the United States and Germany. Japan came fifth and next in order was India, Sweden, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Dutch East Indies, France, Czechoslovakia, Ceylon, Persia, Finland. Great Britain accounted for 48.1 per cent of the total imports; the United States, 16.9; Germany, 4.8; Canada, 3.9.

WOOD AND CHARCOAL FUEL OF DUTCH EAST INDIES

The fuels most used by natives in the Dutch East Indies are wood and charcoal because of their abundance and cheapness. There is, however, some use of gas and electric stoves, the latter being preferred where there is a supply of electricity. There are eight gas plants in the Dutch East Indies and except for one Diesel electric plant in South Sumatra, all electric power is hydro-generated.

ADVERTISING Is Good For Us

The dusty picture of an optimist and a pessimist—the optimist being the doughnut and the pessimist the hole—is just a way of describing most of us: some of us habitually look on the bright side of things; others on the dark side. Always there are those who have a melancholy pleasure in fault-finding. And so there are always those who look upon advertising as an economic waste and a means by which the sale of inferior merchandise can be promoted. It is quite possible to discover wrong things about advertising—just as it is possible to find wrong things about water and air, about books and speeches, about motor cars and aeroplanes, about schools and churches, about Canadians and Scotsmen, about knives and forks.

Advertising is news and information, and who shall say that is is wrong to communicate news and information? It would be a pretty dull world, full of dull people, if there ceased to be a dissemination of news and information.

In all ages and in all countries those giving out news and information have attracted to themselves attentive audiences; and this is as true today as it was 1000, 2000, 3000 years ago.

What Stores Are Busiest?

Is it not those stores which give out most information about what they have to sell? The public is daily spending money—probably $2 a day for every man, woman and child in the trading area covered by the circulation of our newspaper—or, say, $2000 for every 10000 persons. So you can calculate for yourself—you, a retailer, what is spent daily in our own community for food, shelter, clothing and for all other things.

GOOD DRIVERS ARE "ARRESTED"

To be arrested by police, brought into court and "fined" has been the experience of many Minneapolis car drivers who have never violated a traffic law or hit a pedestrian. In fact, it is reported, watchful policemen have been spending a good part of their time "arresting" the better drivers of that city. And the drivers "take it and like it" for the "fine" imposed is a gift of a new set of 1936 plates, presented through the courtesy of the Minneapolis Star. This unique practice has been adopted to encourage good driving so that it may be an honor as well as a disgrace to be haled into court. A trade paper expresses the hope that the idea will be widely accepted and that the names of the best drivers in a town will appear in the "honor roll" in daily papers.

EVIDENCE SEEN OF PROSPEROUS TIMES

Prognosticators of better times have each their own theories concerning the various factors involved in a return to greater prosperity, so frequently indicated by the upward turn shown in graphs and charts. L. L. Grabbill, general baggage agent for the Canadian National Railways, also has his theory of returning prosperity, which is supported by tangible evidence. This is the fact that patrons of the railway leave their purses and handbags on trains and Mr. Grabbill argues, with considerable logic, that if money was so awfully scarce why would people be so forgetful as to leave it behind them.

No less than 20 purses and handbags were found on trains of the Canadian National Railways within the past month. Aside from causing temporary consternation, the missing articles, with their contents, were not a permanent loss, however, thanks to the honesty of railway employees, for they were all later recovered at the Lost and Found Department, much to the satisfaction of the passengers.

SOUTH AFRICA HAS LOW WHEAT YIELD

South Africa has one of the lowest yields of wheat per unit area among the principal producing countries of the world. Germany tops the list with 19.7 bags of 200 lbs. each per Morgen (2.1165 acres) according to latest figures, followed by France 16.0; Italy 14.0; United States 8.4; Canada 7.8; Argentina 6.4; South Africa 6.2; Australia 5.7. South Africa's climate and soil are not suited to wheat growing. Latest crop estimates give 5,381,000 bags of wheat, a decrease of 700,000 bags from the last crop, due to drought and insect pests, particularly in the Orange Free State. Annual normal consumption is placed at 4,500,000 bags which leaves an estimated surplus of 861,000 bags. Back in 1917 there was a great danger of a bread shortage in the Union of South Africa and authorities instituted measures to increase the production of domestic cereal crops for the manufacture of foodstuffs. As millers are reported to have sufficient stocks of wheat on hand to carry them along for some time, the government is faced with a serious situation to prevent a complete collapse in the price of South Africa's wheat. The cost of production is anywhere in Canadian money, roughly, from $3.00 to $5.00 per 200 pound bag, depending upon the area in which the wheat is grown and the size of the farm.

CHINESE PREFER A HARDER CHEESE

While the people of Hongkong and South China have a liking for processed cheese, otherwise known as "Easy Spread" it suffers under a disadvantage owing to the tendency to mildew under the humid climatic conditions experienced during the greater portion of the year. A firmer texture in cheese is preferred along with a yellow golden color. Australia, the United States and New Zealand are the principal supplying countries of processed cheese as shown by figures for the first nine months of 1935. The cheese is put up in foil-wrapped five pound blocks in wooden boxes and the foil wrapper is marked in red or blue to indicate half-pound segments.

STOVE BECOMES MUSICAL

Music from a gas stove in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Derval of Edmonton, has the couple wondering. Twice in the last two weeks they have been surprised by music from the stove. On the second occasion it started faintly but gradually became louder. After a few minutes it died away.

HOW 'RECESSIONAL' FIRST APPEARED

So many accounts of the way in which Rudyard Kipling's "Recession" has been published on "the very best authority" says Literature that it may be well to dispose of them by the publication of the following letter which enclosed the manuscript.

"Dear—
"Enclosed please find my sentiments on things—which I hope are yours. We've been blowing up the new moon a little too much for white men, and it's about time we sobered down. If you would like it, it is at your service on the old conditions that I can use it if I want to later in book form. I don't want any proof. Couldn't you run it tonight, so as to end the week plausibly?
"If it's not your line, please drop me a word.
"Ever yours, sincerely,
"R. K."

The poem was published the next morning. Mr. Kipling was asked to name his own price, but absolutely declined all payment.

KIPLING KNOWN FOR GREAT IMPERIALISM

Rudyard Kipling, Great Britain's famous poet, died early Saturday in the Middlesex Hospital at the age of 70, sending the Empire he set afire with patriotism into widespread mourning.

His body lay later in the day in the same simple bed in a private room of the hospital, which he had occupied since he underwent an emergency operation on the previous Monday for a perforated stomach ulcer. It did not become known immediately whether Kipling would be buried in Westminster Abbey, last resting place of so many of Britain's famous sons.

For four days since he was operated on Monday morning, only Kipling's flashing eyes gave evidence of his will to live—a will symbolic of the rugged strength he displayed throughout his career.

CHILDREN SHARE VERMILYEA ESTATE

The son and daughter of Harold Vermilyea, who was executed in Belleville on May 2nd last, for the murder of his mother, will share in the $47,872 estate left by the slain woman, according to a judgment delivered by Mr. Justice Makin in Osgoode Hall on Friday.

According to the judgment, Caroline Aurelia Vermilyea, and Nathaniel Vermilyea, children of Harold Vermilyea, are entitled to one-eighth share each of their father's one-quarter share of the residue of their grandmother's estate.

In a previous hearing it was held that Harold Vermilyea's estate was not entitled to a share in his mother's estate, under the rules of public policy. However, the question arose as to whether Vermilyea's share should be treated as intestacy or fall into the residue. His Lordship decided that there is an intestacy in respect to this share.

SPEED TRAPS A LA BRITAIN

Seeking to cramp the style of dashing drivers, speed suppressionists in the United States have evolved an automatic speed trap. It is based on the light ray and photo electric cell principle. The device has a dial which shows the exact speed at which any vehicle has passed over a stretch of road under control. It is hoped also to incorporate in the apparatus a camera which will register this speed, together with the registration number of the car. A British writer wonders why the inventors should stop short there. "Why," he ponders, "not have a barricade which automatically drops down and closes the road if the legal speed has been exceeded, remaining closed until the amount of the fine has been paid into a slot machine?"

ARTIFICIAL TEETH FROM PALESTINE

Believe it or not but Canada gets artificial teeth from Palestine, along with oranges. In turn, Palestine takes from Canada, in order of value, wheat flour, box shooks, canned fish, upper leather, fresh apples, wearing apparel, electric apparatus, automobile parts and rubber tires, fresh peaches; toilet soap. Canada increased her trade with Palestine, in 1934, over the previous year, by over 100 per cent.

TOOK 8,000 FISH OUT OF MALIGNANT LAKE

During the 1935 season the Maligne-Medicine Lakes area in Jasper National Park, comprised of Maligne, Mona, Medicine and Beaver Lakes and the Maligne River, were visited by 951 fishermen, of which 640 were non-residents of the Province of Alberta. This area was planted with speckled trout by the Dominion Government in 1927, previous to which it was barren of fish life. Reports made to the game warden show that 8,378 fish were taken.

BRITAIN PRODUCING OWN CHRISTMAS TREES

The war seriously interfered with Great Britain's domestic supply of Christmas trees, consequently, trees were imported from Western Europe. Spruce is preferred because of its erect and conical outline and the branches do not sag. It is estimated that about 750,000 are sold each year. Largely owing to the work of the British Forestry Commission, a domestic supply of small trees is now available sufficient to take care of almost the entire demand for the home market within the next few years. There would seem to be much opportunity for Canada supplying trees for this market.

TORNADOES SWEEP WESTERN STATES

Tornadoes swept three southeastern states while blizzards lashed the northern tier of States from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast at the United States Monday counted at least 115 dead, including 58 in traffic accidents.

The majority of the reported automobile fatalities were chargeable to slippery streets and obscured vision of drivers.

Many airports were closed and planes grounded. Railroads ran far behind schedule. In many cities trolleys were blocked by snow and automobile traffic virtually was halted. Most main highways were reported open to traffic but few secondary roads were passable in the midwest.

Heavy snow and rain in some southern states brought a new menace from floods and rivers and streams rose sharply.

DROP PROVISIONS TO STRANDED MEN

Pilot George H. R. Phillips took off from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., on Monday on an Ontario air service moth aircraft to drop 100 pounds of provisions to three Brimley, Mich., men whose 35 foot fishing tug is held in the ice in Whitefish Bay.

While Pilot Phillips carried sufficient food to enable them to live over the week-end, United States coastguards renewed its efforts to push a flat bottomed skiff over the ice to the tug.

On Sunday the coastguards got within four miles of the tug when the crew went through the slush ice into the water and were then forced to turn back.

They set out at nine o'clock on Monday morning from Emerson in six above zero weather.

On Sunday afternoon Pilot John Flannery of the Michigan Sault, dropped provisions from his cabin plane. He was alone and had to open the cabin door while travelling at 80 miles an hour to drop the food.

OBEYS REQUESTS LIKE AUTOMATON

Victim of a disease that has puzzled doctors, William H. Lord, 64, of Springfield, Mass., is now in the 10th year of a semi-coma from which he has aroused but twice. Ministered to devotedly by his wife, Lord obeys certain requests like an automaton but betrays otherwise no signs of consciousness of what is going on around him.

Lord takes food and drink with regularity, obeying his wife, and likewise smokes his pipe on instructions. He is able to arise from his bed daily with the same help that would be given to a very young child incapable of dressing.

DARING ROBBERY

In the most daring daylight robbery perpetrated in Belleville in many months, a man and woman escaped with a fur coat owned by J. T. Delaney, local furrier, valued at $275. The theft was not discovered until the store was closing at six p. m. when the coats were being put away.

The pair entered the well-known store carrying a large club bag shortly after 2 p. m. on Monday and proceeded to examine an assortment of fur coats. Apparently disapproving of the samples exhibited the woman asked that additional coats kept in an upstairs storeroom be shown her. Both clerks inadvertently left the store for a few moments and during their absence police believe the valuable coat was stuffed into the roomy club bag. Shortly afterward the pair calmly walked out the front door and proceeded in a westerly direction along Campbell street to Front street. All trace of the thieves was lost at this point.

WORST OF WINTER OVER SAYS INDIAN

An old Indian residing on the red man's reservation, Rice Lake district, has prophesied that the heaviest of the winter has passed. He reads the weather from the position of the moon and sun at the present time; also from the actions of animals that den up through the winter. Many small animals are seen prowling about during the late mild weather, which indicates a broken winter. He states we will have a few cold streaks the latter part of January and throughout February, but the severe weather will not continue any length of time. Many blackbirds have made their appearance, which is said to be about two months earlier than in previous years.

O'DONNELL CHARGED WITH GIRL'S MURDER

After hearing witnesses for two days a grand jury at the Winter Assizes at Toronto, on Wednesday returned a true bill charging Harry O'Donnell with the murder of Ruth Taylor, 20-year-old stenographer. O'Donnell's trial was set for February 3rd.

Miss Taylor's body was found in an East End ravine November fifth, down an embankment off Gerrard street near Coxwell Avenue. Several small boys made the discovery.

O'Donnell is married and at the time of his arrest his wife was in the hospital, having given birth to a baby a few days before.

The Crown's evidence showed O'Donnell's clothing was blood-stained and muddy. There were tiny hairs on his overcoat similar to those on the girl's sweater. In a statement to police, O'Donnell told of his movements that night, saying he went into a vacant lot on his way home.

CANADIANS TO ATTEND CONVENTION IN LEIPZIG

An official Canadian tour to the World Poultry Congress to be held in Leipzig, Germany, from July 24th to August 2nd, has been arranged. The tour will comprise 45 days spent in England, France, Switzerland, Germany and Holland, and has been organized by a Canadian committee of university professors and poultry experts. They include such experts as F. C. Elford of the Experimental Farm at Ottawa; Prof. George Cormie, Alberta Department of Agriculture; and J. D. Barbeau, Quebec Department of Agriculture.

The World Poultry Science Association holds its congress every third year in a different country. Leipzig was chosen this year because of its proximity to the scenes of the 1936 Olympiad. The official Canadian tour will leave Montreal on July 10th.

OIL REFINERY BEING BUILT AT DESERONTO

After months of preliminary investigation, R. D. Perry, Deseronto, and R. W. Lucas of Napanee, wholesale distributors of gasoline and refinery products, have amalgamated and formed what is to be known as the Deseronto Refinery Company, Limited. They have acquired approximately six acres on the waterfront and expect to start the first unit of their refinery at an early date. The property possesses good water facilities for tankers bringing in crude oil direct. A railway siding on the site ensures all year round transportation.

A world-wide study of insulin, patiently carried out by science over the 14-year period since Sir Frederick Banting and Dr. Charles H. Best of Toronto, gave the diabetic treatment to mankind, had apparently borne fruit on Thursday with announcement of the creation of an insulin compound.

GO AHEAD SIGNALS

The green light department of Canadian Automotive Trade, magazine devoted to the Dominion's motor industry, suggests that general conditions in Canada are conducive to an active automobile year. The editor points out: "Canada's 1935 economic index 6.6 per cent higher than 1934. Freight higher, but grain shipments lower. Grain moving with unusual freedom. Trade arrangement with Japan loosens jam in this trade lane—Wholesale prices remarkably stable. Both prices at higher level than any time since war period. Spectacular feature is advance of common stock prices. Bonds showing new firmness. Bank clearings up 6.4 per cent. Manufacturing record most encouraging, index taking year-end upturn. Electric power output reaches new all time high. Employment situation better than since 1931. Twelve-month foreign trade 11 per cent up over 1934."

WHY DOES SALMON RISE TO THE FLY?

Does a salmon rise to a fly in fresh water because it is hungry or just for fun? This question has arisen with renewed force by the finding by Guide Jack Russell, of Ludlow, N. B., and an ardent angler of Huntingdon, N. Y., F. D. Edsall, of freshly caught flies in the stomachs of Atlantic silver salmon caught on the southwest Miramichi River, in New Brunswick. It has long been an opinion that salmon never feed in fresh water. Although there have been two well authenticated cases where salmon took insects in fresh water, one case being in Canada and the other in Scotland. And so experts are again debating the subject pro and con.

WEDDINGS

GOW—GOLDEN
On Sunday, January 12th, at two o'clock at the United Church Parsonage, Belleville, the marriage took place of Miss Goldie E. Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Golden, to Mr. Jack N. Gow, son of Mr. Mrs. Joseph Gow, of Latta. Rev. Farnsworth officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hall were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Gow will reside at Latta.

HOARD—MASTERS

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wood at Trout Lake was the scene of the wedding of Miss Hoard to Mr. Masters. The bride wore a gown of white silk crepe with a train and a large veil. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Wicks of Coe Hill. The bride and groom were accompanied by the bridesmaids, Miss Ida Nelson as bridesmaid and Mr. C. H. Hill as best man. The wedding party stood beneath a canopy of evergreens, with Miss Ida Nelson as bridesmaid and Mr. C. H. Hill as best man. The bride looked charming in her silk crepe dress with wedding train and orange blossoms. The ceremony was a simple one. After hearty congratulations a delicious wedding dinner was partaken of. Afterward the young couple departed the happy couple to their home close by, while the older guests remained to chat and visit. Supper was served and afterwards the groom's father across the lake, until the morning stars shone.

FATHER-SON BANQUET HELD AT THOMASBURG

Belleville united with Thomasburg recently in the observance of Father and Son night at a social evening and dinner arranged by the Thomasburg Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows held in Oddfellows' Hall at Thomasburg. Mr. John Dudgeon, Noble Grand of the order presided over the meeting as chairman, introducing the various speakers and promoting the informality of the event. As a guest speaker of the evening Mr. J. O. Herity of Belleville, delivered a witty and informative address on "Thomas Wilsey," who was the founder of the Independent Order of Oddfellows as it is known on the American continent. The address was particularly appropriate, inasmuch as Wednesday of last week marked the 154th anniversary of the birth of the founder of the Oddfellows. Included among those who gave brief addresses were the Rev. Mr. Hill, of Roslin, who spoke on "The Mission of Oddfellowship." A vocal solo was rendered by the Rev. F. C. Beazer, also of Roslin, while an instrumental trio, led by Mr. Albert Arbuckle assisted in the entertainment. The evening, which followed was devoted to social amenities, games and varied entertainment. Accompanying Mr. Herity to Thomasburg, were Mr. H. D. Ranson and Mr. Wilbur Sherry of Belleville.

BELLEVILLE MARKET SATURDAY

Flying snowflakes and freezing winds, which whipped the district during the fore part of the day cut down the attendance at Belleville Saturday market to a scattered attendance on the part of both sellers and buyers. On the outside market at ten o'clock a mere half dozen vendors were on hand, offering assorted wares, which consisted mostly of vegetables. Little change in prices was noted above those asked for the past several weeks for staple produce. On the inside market a slim attendance was also noted. Butter had advanced slightly, with the majority of the few vendors asking a straight 30 cents per pound. In a few cases two-pound rolls were being quoted at 55 cents for the roll. Eggs were the same, 25 cents for pullets and 30 cents for extras. A few fowl, mostly chickens were being sold at from 65 to 75 cents each. A few ducks were being sold at $1. and $1.25. Butchers reported little change in prices, although in the main the livestock market was firm, with expectations of a slight advance in beef and pork later, it was stated by one dealer. In the grain market sluggish trade lately has resulted in little change in prices, although seed grain is expected due for a rise shortly.

TWO KILLED IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

William Devine and Samuel Doyle, both of Toronto, and employed by Loblaw's Groceries at Toronto, were instantly killed shortly after four-thirty o'clock on Monday morning, when the large transport of which they were in charge and travelling east, Samuel Doyle being at the wheel, was struck at the cemetery crossing, three miles west of Belleville, by a C. P. R. passenger train travelling west. The bodies were horribly mangled and carried a distance of 150 yards on the pilot of the engine. The bodies were removed to the Martin Funeral Home and Dr. G. S. Cronk, coroner for the district, after investigating the fatality, ordered an inquest and after preliminary evidence was taken, adjourned until a later date. There was no cause given for the tragedy as the whistle on the locomotive was sounded and the wig was working. J. Tobin, of Smiths Falls, was the conductor in charge of the train and W. Ranton, of Smiths Falls, the engineer. Traffic Officers Sam Ervine and Bert Delaney were early on the scene and took charge.

LUMBERMEN WELCOME RECENT SNOW FALLS

Lumbermen throughout the northern part of the county have welcomed the recent snow falls as a valuable asset in the work of getting out the logs and timber that had been recently cut, and awaiting transportation to the main roads. Thousands of logs have been shifted during the last week or so to the mills where they are being converted into lumber. In the pulpwood trade conditions are particularly active, it is stated.

Six or seven men were trapped on Monday by a terrific blast in the Monarch Coal Mine near Lafontaine, Colorado. Fellow workmen and emergency crews hastily attempted to open the shaft to the men, trapped about a mile underground.

Mrs. Rollins then gave a short talk on Temperance. A Christian Stewardship reading was given by Phyllis Parks, "The Deacon's Tenth." EARTHQUAKE ROCKS NORTH BAY AREA

An earth tremor shook North Bay, Mattawa and Temiskaming, Quebec, a few minutes before one a.m. on Monday. Milk bottles were shaken off a table in the home of Mrs. Peter Gamache at Mattawa. It was a distinct shock most severe since the major quake of November 1st, according to persons living in the district. In Mattawa, a low rumble was heard for several minutes before the earth started to vibrate.

GOLDEN WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Newton of Hamilton are visiting the former's brother and sister, Mr. J. L. Newton and Mrs. David Beatty and other friends and relatives in Tweed, their old home. Mr. and Mrs. Newton celebrated their golden wedding in Hamilton a short time ago at the home of Mrs. J. S. Chandler, when a large number of friends and relatives gathered to do them honor. The bride and bridegroom of a half century were presented with a number of beautiful gifts which included a gold clock, a gold chain and pen-knife to Mr. Newton and a gold bracelet to Mrs. Newton in addition to gifts of daffodils and roses. Messages of congratulation were received over the radio, through the mail and by telegram from the host of friends of the honored couple.

WINTER SCHOOL OPENS SESSION

With approximately 100 students in attendance, the fourteenth annual Bay of Quinte Conference Winter School opened for its third consecutive term in Belleville in Bridge St. Church Sunday School rooms on Monday. Delegates from as far as Peterboro, Cobourg, Port Hope, Napanee, Picton and Madoc were in attendance when the Conference opened with the Rev. H. B. Neal conducting the worship period. On Monday evening Rev. A. J. Wilson, B.A., B.D., of Napanee, spoke to the Conference on the subject of "Russia As I Saw It During My Visit to That Country Last Summer." Rev. Wilson's address proved highly educational as he predicted the return to the Christian religion to that great country in the future. The speaker told of the many advancements being completed by the present day Russians in the world of science, building and commerce. Bible study and the training of the younger members of the Conference to lead in their respective churches is the paramount principal of the organization. Lessons in these are delivered by experienced speakers only.

CHINA IS ALSO AIMING AT SELF-SUFFICIENCY

China is the latest recruit to the list of nations which have joined the hectic rush to become self-supporting. During the present year this has become intensified, particularly along the line of the lighter industries. There has been an increase in the imports of capital goods, such as machinery, etc., in North China, with which to produce consumer's goods and this is reflected in the drop in foreign imports. There is considerable building activity and railway construction going on in North China, which has given rise to a greatly increased demand for timber products from the United States and Canada.

POSED AS MUTE TO COLLECT ALMS

Charged in Magistrate's Court at Hamilton on Monday with begging, Earl Eaves, Toronto, admitted he posed as deaf and dumb in soliciting alms. He pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge and was remanded for one week for sentence. Search of his clothes revealed a dollar and the deaf and dumb appeal which read: "Kind friends—I am deaf and dumb. I ask your kind assistance. Any assistance will be used properly. Thank you." Eaves said he worked the route in Niagara Falls and Grimsby.

MEETING OF JUNIOR C. G. I. T.

The regular meeting of the Junior C. G. I. T. of Trinity United Church was held at the home of Verna Casselman on Friday evening, January 17th, with the vice-president, Ruth Gordon, in charge. The meeting opened with the C. G. I. T. Purpose which was repeated by the girls and the hymn "Take Time to Be Holy," was sung. The roll was called, being answered with a New Year's Resolution. The business was brought up the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and the collection was received.

Doris Shaw read the scripture which was taken from the sixth chapter of Matthew, beginning with the 17th verse. Miss Garrett gave a helpful talk on prayer and then led in prayer. Thelma Storrington told the story of the fourth chapter in the Study Book, "Adventuring in Africa." Verna Casselman and Laura Storrington rendered a pleasing duet which was enjoyed by all.

Taps was then sung, followed by a sing-song and two interesting contests brought the meeting to a close. A number of Madocers attended the dance in Stirling on Thursday night under the auspices of Stirling Hockey team.

MEETING OF HAZZARD'S Y. P. U.

The regular meeting of Hazzard's Young People's Union was held on Thursday evening, January 16th. The theme of the worship service was "Neighborliness," based on the story of the "Good Samaritan," taken from Luke 10:25-37.

"Thy neighbour, 'tis the weary man, Whose years are at the dim, Bent low with sickness, care, and pain, Go thou and comfort him."

Letters of acknowledgment and thanks from the northern country, to whom Christmas sales were sent, were read. The Book Exchange proved a success, judging by the number and variety brought. It is hoped the reading will prove profitable and that next month will see everyone taking part.

Owing to the illness of the new Citizenship Convener, Raymond Gussolus, his well-prepared program was in charge of the president. A large audience enjoyed the debate, "Resolved that the automobile is a benefit to mankind." The affirmative was taken by Ethel MacKillican and Ray Moorcroft, the negative by Audrey Fitchett and Ronald Gryce. The judges awarded the decision to the affirmative, although both sides presented their points remarkably well and all showed evidence of having put a great deal of time and study on the subject.

Dorothea and Hubert Harris sang a duet, Hubert accompanying on the autoharp. An intelligence test on Canada was enjoyed after which the meeting closed with the hymn "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," and the Min-pah benediction.

BURIAL IN ABBEY FOR GREAT POET

The body of Rudyard Kipling, Britain's renowned poet and author, who died on Saturday morning, will have its final resting place in Westminster Abbey, where lies the remains of many of the Empire's famous men. Kipling will be buried on Thursday in the Poet's Corner, the Very Rev. William Foxley Norris, Dean of Westminster, announced. The body will be cremated, the family has announced. The Times on Monday in an editorial tribute to Rudyard Kipling who died Saturday, said: "Burial in the Poet's Corner at Westminster Abbey is a high honor but not too high an honor for one of the most influential personalities of the time and a unique figure in English literature."

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER FOR THE FARMER

Electric Soil Heating

Electric soil heating for the propagation of seeds and promoting plant growth is making headway in Canada. Nearly 200 installations are now being used in the province of Ontario in greenhouses, and in hot-beds and cold frames, for propagating the seeds of tomatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, egg plant, peppers, cucumbers, melons, certain flowers, rooting cuttings of flowers, evergreens, sprouting sweet potatoes. The results of electric soil heating are stated to be very satisfactory. In the Burlington district the use of under-soil electric heating hastens the development of plants to set out in the field by about three weeks, and the growers report that freedom from worry when the weather changes is one of the distinct advantages of the system. Plants have much greater root development, shorter and thicker stems, and are generally more rugged. During the past season, plants when set out in the field had less wilt and made quick recovery from it.

Wax Plucking Economic

One of the reasons for the popular adoption of the wax plucking of poultry is that the process is not an expensive one. Recovery of 95 per cent of the wax—a figure which can be realized without much difficulty—means a loss of about one pound of wax in the dressing of forty average birds. The reclaimed wax may be used repeatedly. The reclaiming operation consists in simply melting down the pieces of wax, allowing the mass of wax and feathers to get quite hot, and then straining. A broad-bladed pliable knife, or even a flat stick, can be used to press the larger part of the residual wax out of feathers, pins, and other extraneous matter left in the bottom of the strainer. Slight changes do occur in the wax on long usage, but these will not be serious, states the bulletin recently issued on the use of wax in the plucking of poultry, and the farmer-operator will be able to use the wax almost indefinitely. Repeated melting and straining of the wax removes most of the dirt and keeps the mixture comparatively sterile. As the wax is used up, fresh wax may be added to keep up the volume. The bulletin may be obtained from the

CONCEDED ESTATE OF H. VERMILYEA NOT TO BENEFIT

It was conceded the estate of the late Harold Worden Vermilyea, executed at Belleville, Ont., last May 2, for the murder of his mother, Mrs. Catharine Aurelia Vermilyea, could not benefit under Mrs. Vermilyea's will, Mr. Justice J. C. Makins, noted recently after hearing argument upon an application for advice made to him at Osgoode Hall.

His Lordship reserved judgment upon the question whether the share of Mrs. Vermilyea's estate, which Harold Vermilyea might have inherited should be treated as in the case of an intestacy or should fall into the residue of the estate.

Should Mr. Justice Makins decide there was an intestacy with respect to Harold Vermilyea's fourth share of the residue of the estate, that share would be divided among Vermilyea's two children, Catharine Aurelia and Nathaniel, who live in California, and the late Mrs. Vermilyea's surviving children, Mrs. James A. Faulkner, Arthur F. Vermilyea, and Clarence W. Vermilyea. The children of Harold Vermilyea would receive each one eighth of their father's share of the estate.

On the other hand, if the share of Harold Vermilyea fell into the residue of the estate, his children would receive nothing and his share would be divided equally between Mrs. Faulkner, Arthur Vermilyea and Clarence Vermilyea.

Mr. Doak passed away in a few minutes. He was attended by Dr. Pedley to whose office the body was taken, later before being removed to the Duffin Undertaking Parlors.

The deceased man, who had been apparently in good health until yesterday, was visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Bird of Stirling. He was born on the fourth concession of Rawdon, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doak. He followed the profession of farming from which he had retired a number of years ago, living at Acton.

COL. VANDERWATER IS GUEST SPEAKER

Music, songs and special entertainment followed the regular business of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada in Memorial Hall, Belleville, on Thursday evening on the occasion of the regular meeting and social evening held by the Belleville branch. Well over 150 veterans of the city and district and their friends were present to enjoy the evening's entertainment.

In a special address that was directed chiefly for the benefit of returned men, Col. Roscoe Vanderwater, guest speaker of the evening, who chose as his topic "Social Service Among Returned Men," brought home to his interested listeners some pertinent facts regarding post-war conditions among their members. He was introduced by the chairman of the evening, Comrade Lou Soules, who officiated in the absence of Quentin Boyd, president of the Belleville branch.

Included among the entertainers who helped make the evening a success were James Bankier, Sgt. Major Wibberly of the R.C.A.F., Bryce Sills, Frank Howard, Jack McIntosh, Clare Patterson and others. Mr. Thomas Mason was accompanist and soloist on the piano.

LARGE BROADCASTING STATION TO BE ERECTED IN INDIA

There are a large number of wireless sets in operation in India, the greater portion being of United States origin. Great Britain is the next largest source of supply followed by Holland and Germany. The native is keen on radio, 90 per cent of the licenses in the early days of broadcasting in India being taken out by Indians. In addition to electrically operated sets, which are increasing as electric transmission lines are extended, battery sets are in use where there is not an available supply of electric current. There is also a demand for parts for assembling sets of more simple types. Radio reception in India is complicated in some parts of the country by high-powered European and other outside stations and a new large broadcasting station is about to be constructed in Delhi which will be able to change its wavelength on short notice in an endeavour to overcome this interference. It is designed to cover the 200-550 metre wave-band.

Taking your Dollar to Market

EVERY year your family, and every family of your acquaintance, spends about 70 per cent. of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilities and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

That part of spending is readily understood. But do you realize that every manufacturer and retailer of these necessities is planning how he can get your dollar?

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

The clever woman goes for help to the advertisements in her local paper. There she finds a directory of buying and selling. She learns about the offerings of merchants and business people. She compares values. She weighs quality and price. She takes this opportunity of judging and selecting almost everything she needs to feed, clothe, amuse, instruct and generally bring up her family.

Do you read the advertisements? You will find them willing and able to serve you in the business of purchase.

OLD COINS FOUND

IN UPROOTED TREE

While clearing a piece of land at Uxox Lake, Charles H. Forster, of Toronto, found two dozen assorted French and English coins, one dating back to 1792, wrapped in a handkerchief in an old boot. The boot came to light when a stump was uprooted. In the collection was a 1914 Canadian cent, but the next newest of "Liberty."

coin was an 1823 silver coin.

Among the collection was one 1838 coin, picturing a woman slave, her wrists bound by chains, with the wording, "Am I not a woman and a sister." Another with "Carolus II Dei Gratia," has a blurred date, but there is an 1803 "Carolus III Dei Gratia." A Cronebane halfpenny shows an old man holding a shepherd's staff in his hand, while another is an 1824 coin.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By Edson R. Waite)

B. D. Burdick, advertising manager of the Burlington (Vermont) Free Press, says:

"There is a vast difference between an advertising solicitor and an advertising man. The solicitor's dominating thought is 'how much space can I get?' Space—not service. The advertising man emphasizes the service angle and with helpful, honest service on advertising copy and space for the greatest benefit of the advertiser, builds up a prestige the mere solicitor can never enjoy. This is not an altruistic theory, but a workable policy which has been proven successful by over 5,000,000 lines of local newspaper advertising in a single year—and this is a city of 25,000 population.

"There is a definite amount of space required for a given piece of advertising copy for its proper display, and for best results—not too much, not too little. Don't think inches or lines, think service, and the advertiser will be quick to appreciate an advertising man. The advertising space will come along."

W. R. Carruthers, editor of the Whitehorse (Yukon Territory) Star, says:

"Few people ever stop to think of the work that goes to make the newspaper the most effective advertising medium yet devised in this up-to-the-minute world of ours.

"A newspaper is a welcome visitor in every home because it carries such a varied and descriptive interpretation of every day and world news. Local happenings are avidly read by the homesteaders at home and away from home.

"A newspaper is the most effective advertising medium because it creates a responsive reception for the advertising it carries. That people are more susceptible to the buying urge in their own paper is a factor that is many times overlooked.

"Remember—it takes time, money, effort and organization to keep the newspaper the most effective advertising medium yet devised."

LAZY WELLAND BOY

MUST FIND JOB

Police Sergeant Charles Anderson of Welland, has a new duty and that is to see a 19-year-old Welland boy tries to get a job—starting on Wednesday early in the morning.

Charged with striking his sister, the lad was brought to court at the request of his mother who said she was unable to control him. The youth said he could not find a job and admitted he sometimes remained in bed until after noon.

"If I were as lazy as you I should be out of a job, too," said the Magistrate. He remanded the youth for sentence on condition he reported to Sergeant Anderson at 7 a.m. until he found a job.

EIGHT CHILDREN

AND MOTHER BURN

Eight children and their mother, Sarah Alice Tyrer, 40, were burned to death early Monday morning at London, when fire destroyed a miner's house on Green Bank street at Tyldesley, Lancashire.

Adam Tyrer, the father, was the only survivor. The whole family dropped fourteen feet when the floor of the bedroom in which they were sleeping, gave way.

One of a long row of cottages occupied by miners, Tyrer's home was gutted. When it cooled a little firemen had to dig deep in the ruins to recover the bodies of the nine victims.

COMMERCIAL ART

IS POPULAR FIELD

A girl or boy with ability to draw who enjoys putting pictorial ideas in definite form on paper or canvas may look forward to a career in commercial art.

Now that business goes to such pains to attract the eye and to please the esthetic sense of potential customers, the field of commercial artist is broad. Anyone who goes into it seriously may choose among many lines the one best suited to his particular talents.

Canadian canned lobster is very popular in Great Britain and for the first six months of this year as compared with the same period last year, there was an increase of 17.9 per cent in the quantity imported. There is competition, however, from Japanese and Russian canned crabs.

A royal custom was broken on Tuesday as one of the first acts of mourning for the late king.

In the reign of King Edward VII the clocks at Sandringham were set one-half hour fast. They have stayed fast ever since those years.

PECULIAR ACCIDENTS

Mr. Earl Pollock had a peculiar accident recently, while driving his team home from Havelock. A couple of miles north of Havelock he met Ronald Young's truck, and in passing the rack of the truck caught in one of the horse's collar, tearing the harness from the animal. Fortunately no other damage resulted.

Another peculiar accident happened within half a mile of this one, when Ben Newton of Rush Point, and mail carrier for R. R. No. 4, had one of his horses badly hurt last week when his son was driving his team, about a mile and a half north of the village. One of the horses was struck by a truck owned and driven by Joseph Deshane of Belmont Lake, the truck ripping the animal from head to tail along its side. Provincial Constable Sylvester of Peterborough, was called to view the animal and a veterinary engaged to sew the horse up. The animal is still alive but unable to move.—Havelock Standard.

BOTH BRITISH HOUSES TAKE OATH TUESDAY

On Tuesday night both Houses of Parliament met at 6 p.m. in London to take the oath of allegiance to the new king.

NEWS IS SENT OUT FROM LITTLE VILLAGE

Keeping the world informed of the King's condition brought to the little village of Dersingham, England, situated in the countryside a half mile from the main gate of Sandringham House, the biggest boom it ever could have hoped to enjoy.

Sleepy-eyed servants in its two combination public houses and inns rushed about trying to serve more customers than they ever had to wait on before during a full year.

With five beds for hire in one of the inns, 30 newspapermen and almost as many photographers had moved in since the King became seriously ill on Friday and have set up headquarters, taking turns at the house's one telephone.

The local telephone exchange with two trunk lines over the 100 miles to London, was swamped with calls. Linemen were working to run in a single telegraph wire—the first the village ever had.

325 CORDS OF WOOD TO HEAT BUILDINGS

If the remainder of the winter is not too severe, approximately 325 cords of hard wood cut in Hastings County will be needed this season to supply heat to the various County buildings at Belleville. It is estimated by Gaol Governor G. H. French. In an average winter the number of cords needed is between 325 and 350, although two years ago, when record low temperatures were registered a total of 400 cords found their way into the county furnaces. Formerly coal was the standard fuel, but Hastings County Council members in their effort to supply work for county residents, signed the bill authorizing wood as the only fuel. The long plan after delivery are cut to proper length by prisoners.

18 MONTH TERM FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Charles E. Curtis, former tax collector of Peterborough, was sentenced to 18 months in the Ontario Reformatory on Thursday by Magistrate Langley, when he appeared for sentence on two charges of theft by conversion of tax monies paid the corporation. The amounts involved in the charges were $89.21 and $292.72. The total defalcation, however, according to Crown Attorney McElwary, was $4,122.20.

Open Road

SUPPOSE you suddenly came upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden, the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge, of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth-paste that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trademark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised — breakfast food, hammer, hair tonic—has proved itself good advertising.

Advertisements put you on the Open Road to Satisfaction.

HERE AND THERE

Some people don't know what they want until some one else gets it.

It is announced that ears are growing larger. But that doesn't mean that anybody is going to listen any more attentively to all you say.

One of the queerest quirks in a man's nature is the fact that he will often pay up a big debt but neglect a small one—like his renewal to his home paper.

An important decision of the Ottawa Conference is for an organized drive to bring more holiday-makers to Canada—not only from the United States, but from other parts of the world. Money spent on instructive advertising is a good investment. Mere bullhoo is out of date. We, in Canada, have a great deal to offer the visiting people of the world. It is our job to sell our attractions. Other countries do it. So should Canada.—Victoria Times.

One of the weaknesses of our Canadian educational system is that they teach everything but self reliance. The rough and tumble of life demands many qualities, but none more than the ability for intelligent, untiring effort and unlimited endurance. This will always turn defeat into victory. That Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton has often been said. Napoleon himself said that "The English never knew when they were beaten."

The helplessness of so many people today is not due to lack of opportunity. It is chiefly due to failure to grasp the opportunity offered. In fact success is often in the inverse ratio. Edison had two months at school. Andrew Carnegie had to look after himself at ten years of age. Many of those who have achieved the most, had the fewest advantages. One does not need to go farther than their own community for evidence of this fact. We are all pretty much the masters of our own fate. What we need today is a more self-reliant individual. This will not come through scientific, economic or political effort. It is the result of self control, self culture and intelligent persistent effort. To the extent that our educational institutions are developing and stimulating these qualities, they are succeeding in their work. If they fail to do this much valuable time and effort has been misdirected and in many cases worse than wasted.

RELIGION AND MORALS

Is common with all great prophets and teachers since the world began. Isaiah was sure that a vital religion could not be separated from a genuine and honest morality. The one true and accepted sacrifice is a good life, and nothing can possibly be made to take its place. Men have tried all sorts of substitutes, but tried altogether in vain. That truth, learned so long ago, is just as emphatically true as it ever was.—The New Outlook.

THEY TELL YOU HOW

Every time in a while the publisher of a newspaper runs into somebody who has some idea of men and things and the way business, municipal and otherwise, should be run in the community and he is asked why he does not do this or do that. We met a man one time who had some cock-and-bull ideas and some axes to grind with the town's public men and he asked us to write them up. Our answer to him was the same answer that we would give to any man who has similar ideas and who hasn't the courage of his own convictions to do the thing himself. Write it up, we told him, sign your name to it and we will publish it. Then if there is any come-back you will be there to take it. It is your own funeral and we are not firing balls made by somebody else and then assuming all the responsibility and taking all the abuse for something we had nothing to do with. That man didn't pass a word with us for a long time. And we didn't care. If he had had any spine in the first place, he wouldn't have come to the newspaper office to get us into trouble.—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

GREATNESS OF SIMPLICITY

Simplicity and greatness go hand in hand. The last few days have brought more than ever to the thought of man that one who has sovereign of a greater part of earth than ever fell away to any king or emperor, and was used to affairs of the gravest import of national and international nature could be simplicity itself in his life. The setting of Sandringham House and the estate, the village church where His late Majesty used to worship, the placing of the body in a casket made of an oak tree cut in the royal forest, a true English oak, the simple scenes at the church where foresters and farmers of the royal estate kept guard in bodies of four during the night and where two little girls placed a cluster of heliotrope, the favorite flower of the King, on his casket as it rested before the chance of the small church, the scene of the Queen Mother going twice to the little sanctuary to be with the body of her royal husband, the visits of the royal family, the filling past of the rural folk, some crippled being led by the casket—here was none of "the pomp of power," but that simplicity which has endeared the House of Windsor to the British people. It was a tribute to a man, whom the royal family knew as husband and father and the people knew as "the squire."—Ontario-Intelligencer.

LEAP YEAR BRINGS BACHELOR PERILS

Leap Year is with us again, and he who cherishes single blessedness is taking his solitary life in his hands for the full sweep of 1936.

There was a time when a woman had the law on her side when she went a-wooing in leap year. Perhaps it is superfluous to mention it was a woman's idea.

In 1288 when the good Margaret of Norway ruled as Queen of Scotland she took the wind out of bachelor sails by decreeing:

"It is statut and ordaint that during the rein of her maiest blisset megeste, for ilk years knowne as lepe year, like mayden layde of both high and lowe estate shall hae liberte to bespeke ye man she likes, albeit he refuses to talk her to be his lawful wyfe, he shall be mulcted in ye sum ane pundis or less as his estate may be; except and wis gif he can make it appeare that he is betroithit ane ither woman he then shall be free."

There are no statistics to reveal the number of Scots who surrendered bachelorhood rather than "ane pundis"—which may have equalled the present pound sterling or roughly $5.00.

France copied the law a few years later. Genoa and Florence followed suit in the fifteenth century.

This year of open season husbands owes itself to the fact that the astronomers of Julius Caesar in 46 B.C. set the solar year at 365 days, six hours. These extra hours, totalling a day every fourth year became February 29th. This orphan day leaps into what ordinarily would be the first day of March and that is how the year comes by its name. The belief that leap year comes once in every four years is not wholly correct. As measured by the sun there are a few seconds each year which do not fit into man's accepted measure of time. To balance these unwanted seconds, the extra day is tossed overboard every century year not divisible by 400.

Leap year was skipped in 1900. It will be skipped again in 2100, but that should not be a cause for worry as you can scarcely hope to be around then.

WESTMINSTER HAS A LONG HISTORY

Westminster Hall, in which the body of King George laid in state from Tuesday until Monday, is a part of the Royal Palace of Westminster, commonly called the Houses of Parliament.

The hall is in the west wing of the Palace, which is not far from Westminster Abbey, but is not connected with the Abbey. The House of Commons, near to the Hall, is in the northern half of the Palace, while the House of Lords is in the southern half.

The original Westminster Hall was finished in 1099, but little of the first building remains except for the walls, which have modern linings.

King Richard II, in 1399, installed a magnificent roof in the hall, with a span of 87 feet, six inches without any intermediate supports. Construction of this roof presented a problem, which hitherto had not been successfully handled.

In 1922, restoration of the roof was completed after it was discovered that beetles had hollowed out some of the main collar beams. Steel reinforcement was adopted for supporting the roof structure.

Westminster Hall is specially memorable as the scene of the condemnation of Charles I in 1649. He was convicted of treason and was hanged.

Richard II was deposed there in 1399.

Among those condemned to death in the hall were Guy Fawkes, convicted in a plot to blow up the Parliament Building in 1606, and Sir Thomas More, who refused to renounce the Pope and agreed to the accession of Ann Boleyn in 1535.

NEW SOVEREIGN WILL WILL NEVER SIT AGAIN IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Just one place in his entire kingdom—a place he keenly enjoyed visiting—was closed for ever to King Edward VIII.

That place is the House of Commons.

Never again will the former Prince of Wales sit in the special gallery reserved for the King's heir, over the clock.

Tradition that dictates the sovereign must not enter the House of Commons has claimed in the past an actual right to refuse entrance to the King.

Only one King, Charles I, dared violate this rule, in order to arrest five members of parliament.

The outraged Commons sent the King away without the prisoners, and deemed the "black rod", the king's messenger should have the door slammed in his face whenever he came to Commons to make the royal will known.

The King little dreamed, when he attended the House during the debate on December 18th, over the discarded Anglo-French proposals for Italo-Ethiopian peace that it would be the last time he ever would lean over the balcony, with hand cupped to his ear, listening closely to the proceedings.

On that occasion Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky sat beside him.

SEVERAL KINGS AND PRINCES TO BE MOURNERS

Members of the Royal houses of Europe and diplomats and statesmen of high standing attended the funeral of King George V Tuesday.

Several kings and princes were among the mourners. Ambassadors at London will represent a number of countries far removed from Great Britain.

A partial list of those who will attend from European countries follows:

Austria—Vice-Chancellor Prince Ernst von Starhemberg.
Belgium—King Leopold III.
Czechoslovakia—Jan Masaryk, Minister to London.
Denmark—King Christian X.
Finland—Baron Carl Gustav Mannerheim.
France—President Albert Lebrun.
Germany—Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath.
Greece—Prince, George and Paul.
Hungary—Foreign Minister Koloman Kanya.
Luxembourg—Prince Consort Felix.
Norway—King Haakon VII and Queen Maud, sister of King George.
Turkey—Foreign Minister Tewfik Rustu Aras.
Yugoslavia—Prince Regent Paul.

The phenomena of a thunderstorm occurring simultaneously with a snow storm was witnessed by residents of St. Joachim, Ont., over the week-end. While the snow was falling the lightning flashed vividly and thunder boomed quite loudly.

MEMORIAL HELD SIMPLE CEREMONY

The bereaved royal family mourned the passing of their king, George V, at a private memorial service in the humble Sandringham church on Thursday and then started back with His Majesty's body on his last journey to London.

More than 10,000 men, women and children, the country folk the late monarch knew as friends and neighbors, braved a cold, frosty morning to bid farewell to the 70-year-old sovereign and to salute silently the new, 41-year-old King Edward VIII.

King Edward and his three brothers wearing civilian clothes, accompanied the widowed Queen Mary, the Princess Royal and the three Royal Dukes, entering at 10.00 a.m. (5 a.m. E.S.T.) the church on the royal country estate.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, who attended at His Majesty's death on Monday night, after a sudden four-day illness, celebrated the brief memorial service, closed to the public.

King Edward sat beside the Queen Mother in the front row near the chancel, where the plain oak coffin rested, during the services.

Behind the other members of the Royal Family, in adjoining pews, sat a few servants of the Sandringham estate.

The childish voices of the choir boys, chanting the 23rd Psalm, "The Lord is my shepherd," were heard from the church shortly before the coffin was carried out and the solemn procession to Wolferton station started.

The Bishop of Norwich, assisted by the parish rector, the Rev. A. R. Fuller, joined in conducting the services. Prayers with the Royal Family kneeling, and a hymn, "Peace, Perfect Peace," ended the service.

NINE MONTHS OF MOURNING

Edward VIII issued his first public command as king shortly after he returned from Sandringham to London by airplane on Tuesday, calling on the court to observe nine months' mourning for his father, King George V.

The following notice was posted outside Buckingham Palace.

"The King commands that the court shall wear mourning for nine months from this day for His Late Most Gracious Majesty King George V, of blessed memory. The court is to change to half mourning on Tuesday, July 21st, next."

King Edward arrived at Hender airfield at 7.15 p.m. (7.15 a.m. E.S.T.), accompanied by the Duke of York, after a swift 35-minute flight from Birchen Newton, near Sandringham.

A huge crowd had gathered to see their new king on his first visit as sovereign to the capital.

They saw his graceful jet airplane glitter in the morning sun as it came roaring out of the northeast, then slip swiftly down to a perfect three-point landing.

Since cheers could not be raised, the vast throng stood in respectful silence. The men took off their hats and many of the women curtained.

Thousands silently lined the streets as the King drove to St. James Palace.

CREMONA VIOLIN MADE IN 1628

William Asa Lloyd, of the eighth concession of Thurlow township, is the owner of a violin that was made in 1628 by Antonius Amati, Cremona. Mr. Lloyd is in his 78th year and has had possession of the violin for nearly half a century.

Antonio was one of the two sons of Andrew Amati, the other son being Geronimo. These two brothers made violins from 1520 to 1546. Nicolo, master of the Stradivarius, was a brother of Andrew Amati. Their violins were distinguished for their beautiful outline and finish and exquisite tone. They had an elongated appearance but usually are not more than 13 7/8 inches in length, are easy to play and have a sonorous and powerful tone.

OFFICERS TO SWEAR NEW OATH ALLEGIANCE

Officers of Canadian military units will be required to swear a new oath of allegiance with the accession of King Edward VIII, it was stated recently at Ottawa by the Department of National Defence. Those holding non-commissioned ranks will not be required to do so.

The Department, it was stated, was preparing orders covering the matter which would be issued when ready. Officers, it was explained, held commissions from the King and must therefore swear allegiance to King Edward VIII, as they did to George V.

That is why it is to feed oyster shells than limestone unless the limestone is tested to find how much alum there is in it. The oyster also contains some iodine and minerals from the sea. A pound to each hundred pounds of feed is plenty.

Winter Short Courses Very Successful

Happy and enthusiastic young men left Guelph on Friday after their widely scattered homes in Northern Ontario, after two weeks of study, recreation and intercourse in the winter courses at the Ontario Agricultural College. 36 still remain for two more in the four weeks' Poultry course and will continue to the completion of their three months' short course in dairying. This makes a grand total of 650 registered in the short courses this winter and at least forty or fifty more attended these classes on certain days, returning home each night and not registering at all.

The different courses and the number of men registered in each are as follows: Horticulture, 84; Farm Mechanics, 245; Animal Husbandry, 179; Apiculture, 49; Poultry, 36; Dairy, 57.

These figures indicate that the Farm Mechanics Course was the most popular and this was probably true because in this course there was more of the actual practical doing of things than was possible in the other courses.

During the two weeks most of the instruction was given by members of the College Faculty but several outside specialists assisted and some outstanding speakers were brought in for single addresses. Among these were Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario; Dr. C. T. Curran, Director of the Royal Ontario Museum; Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of Experiment Stations for the Dominion Government, and Judge Joseph Wearing of London.

These students came from 35 Ontario Counties. These counties having the largest number of students were Peel, York, Wellington, Lincoln and Middlesex.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of this short course period was the very evident general feeling of satisfaction among the students. Expressions of approval could be heard everywhere and all the time, and the most common statement was "You bet I'm coming back next year!"

Cleaning the Hen House

When hens are infested with lice or mites and other "filth ailments," it is indication that the pens need cleaning out. All litter should be removed and burned and floors, walls and roosts thoroughly cleaned with hot water and strong soap or lye. When this is done spray the interior of the house with a solution of one part crude carbolic acid and three parts kerosene. Then, a good white wash containing some crude carbolic acid should be applied to walls and furnishings. A good kerosene emulsion is made as follows: Shave one-half pound of hard soap into one gallon of soft water and boil the mixture until the soap is dissolved. Then remove it to a safe distance from the fire and stir into it at once, while still hot, 2 gallons of kerosene (coal oil). The result is a thick, creamy emulsion. Dilute this stock mixture with ten parts of soft water, and apply as a spray or with a brush, being careful to work it into all cracks, crevices, and joints of the building.

With any of these sprays it is necessary to make two or more applications at intervals of a few days to destroy the mites which hatch after the first application. The liquid may be put on with a brush. Cleanliness, fresh air and sunlight are cheap and effective preventatives.

TWO FILM FILMS ONE IN MANCHURIA

Film Film, in Manchuria, is much in the public eye by reason of the gold mining operations being carried on there. But there is another Film Film in Manchuria, and not so long ago a letter noted in New York addressed to Film Film in Canada, found its way to Film Film in Manchuria and after a delay of two months it reached its destination in Canada. Some postal clerk who, evidently, must have been well up on place names in Manchuria, deposited the letter in the "China" box, probably, at first glance, reading Manchuria for Manitoba. The letter was an important one and telegraphs and cables were brought into use in an endeavour to trace it.

RECOUNT ORDERED FOR SIDNEY TOWNSHIP

A recount in the recent municipal elections for Sidney Township will take place before Judge George E. Deroche at the County Court House on Thursday. It was announced recently. The recount will only be for the deputy reeveship, when Clem H. Ketcheson was defeated by Samuel Nicolson by one vote. The application was made on behalf of Mr. Ketcheson. This is the first time in many years that a recount has been necessary for a municipal election in this county.

APARTMENT FIRE CAUSES TWO DEATHS

Two persons are dead and two are injured as a result of a fire which destroyed a six-family dwelling in suburban Eastview on Thursday night. Occupants of the six apartments were driven from their homes in night attire into the bitter cold of a raging blizzard. All but two members of the family of Thomas Gladman escaped.

Mrs. Gladman was burned to death. Her body was found near the door. Also dead is her crippled daughter, Gwen, aged 20. The girl's body was not found on Thursday night and on Friday a search was made for it in the smoldering ruins.

Another Gladman girl, Helen, 16, was rescued from the building by firemen and taken to the hospital suffering from shock.

The fourth victim was Joseph LaFortune, 55, occupant of another apartment in the building.

Mr. LaFortune was standing in front of the burning building after his escape when a smoke explosion blew down the verandah. He was struck on the foot by a fragment and his big toe was fractured.

CHINA OFFERS PROSPECTS FOR CANADIAN BARLEY

There would seem to be a larger market opening up for Canadian pearl barley in the Hongkong market due to the scarcity of suitable sized barley from Germany, the principal supplying country along with Holland. Canada and the United States have about an equal share of the barley market with Canada supplying a shade larger quantity. German barley is favored for its cheapness, colour and roundness of kernel, although importers are inclined to the opinion that the North American article is superior in uniformity, grading and absence of dust. The principal objection to barley from North America, apart from price, is discolouration of the kernels and tendency towards an oval shape.

USED BREAD BOXES FOR LINDSAY VOTE

There were so many candidates in the field in the municipal elections at Lindsay, and so many ballots of large size, that Town Clerk Alley, returning officer, was stormed by deputy returning officers asking for additional boxes. The usual boxes were "stuffed" to the hilt by noon hour.

Clerk Alley scurried about town and secured the loan of eight fool-proof ticket boxes from Lindsay fair board, and also had a local hardware store convert a number of bread boxes into ballot boxes to meet the emergency.

ADVERTISING Is Good For Us

The dusty picture of an optimist and a pessimist—the optimist being the doughnut and the pessimist the hole—is just a way of describing most of us: some of us habitually look on the bright side of things; others on the dark side. Always there are those who have a melancholy pleasure in fault-finding. And so there are always those who look upon advertising as an economic waste and a means by which the sale of inferior merchandise can be promoted. It is quite possible to discover wrong things about advertising—just as it is possible to find wrong things about water and air, about books and speeches, about motor cars and aeroplanes, about schools and churches, about Canadians and Scotsmen, about knives and forks.

Advertising is news and information, and who shall say that is wrong to communicate news and information? It would be a pretty dull world, full of dull people, if there ceased to be a dissemination of news and information.

In all ages and in all countries those giving out news and information have attracted to themselves attentive audiences; and this is as true today as it was 1000, 2000, 3000 years ago.

What Stores Are Busiest ?

Is it not those stores which give out most information about what they have to sell? The public is daily spending money—probably $2 a day for every man, woman and child in the trading area covered by the circulation of our newspaper—or, say, $2000 for every 10000 persons. So you can calculate for yourself—you, a retailer, what is spent daily in our own community for food, shelter, clothing and for all other things.

EDWARD BREAKS ROYAL CONVENTION

King Edward VIII has broken a second royal convention by being the first British Sovereign to travel by railway without employing the royal train.

While the nation was still surprised at the King travelling by airplane on Tuesday, the first day of his reign, King Edward produced this second surprise.

Returning to Sandringham, His Majesty travelled in an ordinary first class compartment of Tuesday afternoon's express, with a pile of newspapers to read on the journey.

Other passengers, walking along

WALLACE H. ROBB SENDS MESSAGE TO HIS MAJESTY

As His Majesty King Edward VIII when he was Prince of Wales, was patron of Abbey Dawn for eleven years, the following cable was sent from New York City:

"Sympathy, love, loyalty."
"Wallace Havelock Robb,

the train corridor, were astonished to see their King with the Duke and Duchess of York, and the Duke of Gloucester, travelling in this simple fashion.

WORK OF JACK MINER TO BE PERPETUATED

Recently arrangements have been made for the maintenance of the Jack Miner Sanctuary at Kingsville, after the lifetime of the famous and beloved founder, Jack Miner.

An agreement has been reached between Mr. Miner and the Toronto General Trusts, whereby an organization known as the Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation has come into being, and a fund established, the interest of which will be used to maintain the sanctuary when Mr. Miner shall have died.

Under the agreement, voluntary donations and subscriptions will be received from Canadian citizens by the Toronto General Trusts, and from United States citizens by the Union Guardian Trust Company, for the fund.

PRAYERBOOK REPRINT WILL BE NECESSARY

Because a new King has come to England's throne the Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England must be reprinted and postage stamps, coins and currency of the entire Empire must be altered.

Custom requires that the head of the ruling monarch appear on stamps, coins and currency. The Book of Common Prayer mentions the King by name in two places and the Queen once. The prayer for "Our Gracious Queen Mary" will be altered to read "Our Gracious Queen Mother," and Edward's name will be substituted for that of his father.

Some time will elapse before an order is issued for new currency and stamps, but an artist will be commissioned soon to design a head of King Edward for the dies.

CHERRY TREE AVENUE FROM WASHINGTON'S EARLY HOME PLANTED

The beginnings of a movement to establish a boulevard of cherry trees from Fredericksburg to George Washington's boyhood home in Stafford, scene of the well-known juvenile story of Washington, has been announced by the Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce, with plans for a celebration on February 22nd, the anniversary of the first President's birthday.

Governor Geo. C. Peery and state Legislature will be asked to be the guests at Fredericksburg when the trees are planted. President Roosevelt also will be invited to the celebration, as will many other prominent officials.

MR. DAVID PHILLIPS

One of Madoc's oldest residents, Mr. David Phillips, passed away at his home on Saturday, January 18th, after a week's illness. The deceased had been in poor health for some time although not confined to the house. On Saturday, January 11th, he suffered a stroke from which he never regained consciousness.

He was a son of the late Elisha Phillips of Hay Bay, and Jane Mitts and was 82 years of age. His wife, formerly Sarah Sample, predeceased him thirty-four years ago. He was also predeceased by two daughters, Ida and Katie and two sons, Edward, who died three years ago from injuries received in the Gillespie talc mine, and Herbert, who was killed overseas. TWO MOTOR CARS BURNED IN SHED

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the drive shed and contents on the farm of Mr. A. J. McMullen on the fifth concession of Rawdon, about noon on Thursday, January 23rd. The loss included all Mr. McMullen's sapling equipment, sap pails and puns in large numbers, milk cans and many valuable tools. Two cars parked in the shed were also destroyed. Mr. McMullen is believed to have been the last one in the shed. Earlier in the day he desired to make a trip into Stirling village and spent some time trying to start one of his cars to make the trip. Failing in the attempt he took the trip with his nephew and while in Stirling learned the news. Fire broke out it is believed about 11.30 a.m., and advanced to a stage beyond control before being discovered. Men worked in the latter cold wind to protect the surrounding buildings but the shed was a total loss. The extent of the damage has not yet been determined and is reported to be only partly covered by insurance.

With the finding of one man on Thursday the rescue of the group of four men and one woman fisher folk caught in a blinding snow storm on Lake Erie at Put-in-Bay, was complete. Put-in-Bay is a summer resort across the lake from Colchester.

DEPOSITS GROW

BY OVER $7,500,000

At the annual meeting of the Dominion Bank held in Toronto on January 29th a very satisfactory statement of the affairs of the Bank was presented to the shareholders. The outstanding features of the statement are, a particularly strong cash and liquid position, a splendid growth of deposits, and an increase in total assets.

The total deposits stand at $105,937,000 compared with $98,269,000 in the previous statement. This is an increase of $7,668,051 within the year, and is divided almost equally between interest bearing and non-interest bearing deposits.

During the past twelve months the already strong liquid position of the Bank has been further strengthened. Immediately available assets which stand at $75,305,000 are 65.29 per cent of public liabilities. Last year the percentage was 61.02. The cash assets totalled $24,905,000, or 21.59 per cent of public liabilities.

The growth in the Bank's total investments during the year is another feature of the statement. These investments consist of Dominion and Provincial Government bonds and other high grade securities, and total $39,516,000, the largest figure in the history of the institution.

Current loans and discounts in Canada are shown at $48,039,000, a little over $2,000,000 less than last year. This reduction is a natural reflection of liquidation during the year of both commercial advances and grain loans.

The net profits, while slightly less than a year ago, are $1,130,052. After providing $700,000 for dividends, Officers' Pension Fund, providing 000.

Commodore Percy W. Nelles and Captain V. G. Brodeur represented the Canadian Navy.

Wing Commander S. G. Taché and Squadron Leader F. C. H. were the representatives of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Mr. Massey walked in the funeral procession from Westminster Hall to Paddington Station and also attended the final service in St. George's Chapel, Windsor.

$228,496 for Dominion and Provincial taxes, and writing off $75,000 from Bank Premises Account, $51,856 was added to profit and loss account, which now stands at $592,890.

The statement shows Letters of Credit at $4,022,000 compared with $2,116,000 a year ago. This advance indicates greater activity in the foreign business of the Bank's customers, both in exports and imports. Bank Premises Account stands at $5,855,000, $75,000 having been written off this year as compared with $50,000 in 1934.

The capital of the Bank remains at $7,000,000 and its reserves at $7,000,000, providing 000.

"Thanks for your Advertisement
... now I can go to sleep!"

A recent telephone advertisement began: "Somewhere, someone would be happy to hear your voice. Perhaps it's a boy at school, a convalescent friend, a husband travelling, or a mother back home and lonely." A few days after its publication a letter reached the Telephone Company:

"Alone in my room tonight," it read, "in this little mountain town, thinking of my little red-headed boy at home, sick, I saw your advertisement and called home. 'Now I can go to sleep. Thank you for your advertisement.'"

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER FOR THE FARMER

Issued by the Central Experimental Farms, Ottawa, Ont.

Raising Geese

The essentials to success in geese raising, according to the Dominion Poultry Husbandman, are free range and an abundance of tender grass or clover. The geese should start to lay about the middle of March, and the eggs should be set as soon as possible. It is advisable to sprinkle the eggs with lukewarm water once daily when set under the mother goose or under hens, and twice daily when set in an incubator. Goslings require warmth after hatching and should be left under the goose or in the incubator for about two days.

When the goslings are ready for feeding, place a green sod near the brooder in order that they may pull the tender shoots. For the first few days they should be fed bread crumbs moistened with milk. When they are about a week old give them a moist mash composed of equal weights of corn meal, barley meal, bran and shorts, feeding three or four times a day for about two weeks.

Give the goslings a good start, then turn them out on good pasture, and discontinue the feeding of mash. They should be protected from cold rains, being confined at night until the weather gets warm, and always have plenty of shade and fresh water.

Exercising the Brooding Ewes

The matter of exercising the ewe flock should not be considered lightly. If strong lambs are to be had, pregnant ewes should have access to a run at all times. If necessary, spread hay on the snow so as to force them to move. This will help to keep them in good health. Avoid crowded quarters. Not only are they unsanitary, but they are the cause of many abortions.

The Spring Seed Supply

Now is the time for farmers to take stock of their spring seed requirements, states the Dominion Cerealist. Those who do not have sufficient seed of their own should secure what they require as soon as possible, making sure that they are getting the best seed for their part of the country. Farmers who have their own seed should have it properly cleaned and graded before the spring rush.

COAL MINING UNDER RAILWAY TRACKS

To stop miners from burrowing under the main line of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway from Euston to the North at Polesworth, Staffordshire, between Nuneaton and Tamworth, in England, which runs over coal deposits in this area, the company acquired mineral rights in one of the seams. Due to mining activities under this section of the track, trains were compelled to run at reduced speed but with the acquisition of mineral rights by the railway in the vicinity, it is the intention to remove the slow order and permit trains to pass over the tracks at their normal speed of from 65 to 75 miles per hour. In Canada there are also sections of her railways which run over coal deposits, in the vicinity of Stellarton, in Nova Scotia, a coal seam being located under the main line of the Canadian National Railways from Truro to Cape Breton, and at Sydney Mines, Cape Breton, mining operations are carried on alongside the track.

ORDER OF SUC- CESSION TO THRONE

Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, Prince of Wales, who succeeds his father to the throne, will probably reign as Edward VIII. The choice of a name has not yet been made but since the Prince ordinarily signs himself Edward P., it seems most probable he will retain that name as king.

The Duke of York, His late Majesty's second son, becomes heir-presumptive. He will be superseded in the line of succession by any issue of the new King.

After the Duke of York the line of succession is as follows:

- Princess Elizabeth of York.
- Princess Margaret of York.
- The Duke of Gloucester.
- The Duke of Kent.
- Prince Edward of Kent.

The demise of the Crown is an event which requires the Privy Council and both Houses of Parliament to meet at once. It is the duty of the Lords of the Privy Council to assemble in order to approve the proclamation announcing the new king.

The death of the King is the only occasion in which Parliament is required by statute to meet at once without the usual summons. All ordinary business in both houses is suspended until the members have taken the oath of allegiance to the new king. All members must first be sworn in again just as they were when they initially took their seats.

DIES SUDDENLY AT CHURCH MEET

Rawdon township and immediate community were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Fred Snarr, lifelong resident of the township, while attending a church service at Wellman's United Church on Tuesday evening of last week. He was stricken with a heart attack and died before medical aid could be summoned.

The late Mr. Snarr was born in Rawdon township, 69 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Snarr, and has lived his entire life on the homestead established by his father as a pioneer of that district. He followed the occupation of farming and was well known and highly respected and especially was he prominent in church work, having filled practically every office in the Wellman's United Church. At the time of his demise he was attending a congregational meeting.

Left to mourn are two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Spencer of Toronto, and Mrs. W. Beckett at home; three sisters, Mrs. Phoebe Bedford and Mrs. Almeda Ballou of Rawdon, Mrs. Isabelle Judd of Chicago, and three grandchildren, Marion Spencer and Isabelle and Frederick Beckett. His wife predeceased him five years ago.

GERMAN PEOPLE URGED TO EAT MORE FISH

Germany is carrying on a campaign to induce the German people to eat more fish and less meat. Her meat consumption per head of population has increased by 12 pounds over 1933 figures, which showed a per capita consumption of 120 pounds. The per capita consumption of fish in Germany is 19.5 pounds, as against 29 pounds for Canada. The German fisheries supply around 40 per cent of the fish consumed within the country, the remainder being imported principally from Norway and Great Britain, both countries accounting for over 55 per cent of the total imports. Countries supplying this market in order of importance are Norway, Great Britain, Japan, Portugal, Denmark, Holland, Sweden, the United States, Russia, Spain, Canada. Imports from Canada are made up of live and frozen eels; frozen, mild-cured and canned salmon; canned lobsters; fish oil; fishmeal. Canada's chances of holding this trade are dependent, in a measure, upon the possibilities for making a barter arrangement whereby Canada will take German goods in payment for goods supplied by Canada.

Taking your Dollar to Market

EVERY year your family, and every family of your acquaintance, spends about 70 per cent. of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilities and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

That part of spending is readily understood. But do you realize that every manufacturer and retailer of these necessities is planning how he can get your dollar?

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

The clever woman goes for help to the advertisements in her local paper. There she finds a directory of buying and selling. She learns about the offerings of merchants and business people. She compares values. She weighs quality and price. She takes this opportunity of judging and selecting almost everything she needs to feed, clothe, amuse, instruct and generally bring up her family.

Do you read the advertisements? You will find them willing and able to serve you in the business of purchase.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?
(By Edison R. Waite)

Arthur C. Dorrance, president of the Campbell Soup Company, says: "The art of successfully preserving foods in tin owes its discovery to the demands of war—yet the invention of canning is one of the greatest civilizing forces the world has ever known."

"Napoleon Bonaparte in his desire to supply his armies with rations during the long sea voyages offered a reward for a discovery method of preserving food."

"Nicholas Appert, a Frenchman, discovered a means of keeping foods edible by sterilizing with heat and making it impossible for air to touch. This is the basis of modern canning."

"Canned foods have aided civilization in its endless advance by giving the world more leisure for the pursuit of cultural activities. The products of the canning industry have made possible many voyages of exploration and discovery which have opened new horizons for mankind."

Frank Carrel, president of the Quebec (Canada) Chronicle-Telegraph, says: "It seems to me that the depression has caused more of our business men to dig deeper into the administration of their own particular businesses."

"On the subject of newspaper advertising many authorities have become convinced that more money has to be spent in advertising appropriations in order to educate the public on general business methods, ethics and expansion."

"Bankers must inform the public all about banking, insurance men all about insurance and financiers all about finance. Possessing a bank account, carrying an insurance policy or buying and selling securities is only the crust of these big developments in our commercial life."

"The expansion of business through educational campaigns is one of the bright spots in our trade revival and will be effective in aiding all other lines of commerce."

100 P. C. GANG IS RAISED TO 26

Number of Toronto policemen former Constable W. J. Watt claims formed a gang looting stores and warehouses in the downtown area of Toronto was raised to 26 on Thursday. Recalled to the witness stand, Watt told Judge J. J. Coughlin and Judge Duncan C. Ross, Royal Commissioners investigating police affairs he wished to substitute Constable Alfred Malloy for Constable Henry Porter in one incident described in his previous testimony. He did not, however, absolve Porter from participation in other alleged incidents.

Malloy went into the witness box and promptly denied the truth of Watt's assertions concerning him. He declared he knew nothing about a quantity of jewelry Watt said "was picked up by Watt, Malloy and Constable William Dinnen one night on their way home from duty. He denied he offered Watt a watch from the 'loot' the next night."

OLD CAR MENACE

When compared with outmoded and worn-out models which click and jerk along the highways, the new cars, replete with the latest safety features, stand out in striking contrast. This contrast, N. H. Daniel, general service manager, General Motors Products of Canada, Limited, points out, is more pronounced during the winter months when the menace of old cars is increased tenfold. While an old car is bad enough under perfect driving conditions, it creates new dangers for all drivers on icy roads, remarks Mr. Daniel. He draws attention to skidding which would not occur with modern hydraulic brakes; the danger of old tires whose treads have been worn smooth; poor windshield wipers and inefficient electrical and lighting systems on old cars. Another danger, Mr. Daniel states, is found in the biting winds which sneak through crevices and numb the driver's fingers. Even if a person cannot buy a new car, he believes it is a real economy to replace an out-worn model with one less decrepit.

AMERICAN FALLS DAMMED BY ICE

The great cataract of Niagara Falls is completely dammed by ice on the United States side and no water is going over. The river from a point not far from the foot of the Horse Shoe Falls is a mass of solid ice extending below the lower bridge and into the rapids. There is another jam extending from below the whirlpool almost to Lake Ontario.

A CORRECTION

In the report of St. Peter's annual meeting which appeared in last week's issue of the Review, mistakes occurred. The accompanist to Mr. Johnstone's violin playing was Miss L. West and not Mrs. West. So, Mr. William Hawthorne sang the solo which was much appreciated by the audience. Mr. Hawthorne's name was omitted in the report. The writer expresses regret for these accidental omissions.

Open Road

SUPPOSE you suddenly came upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden... the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge, of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth-paste that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trademark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised—breakfast food, hammer, hair tonic—has proved itself good advertising.

Open Road to Satisfaction.
